U.S., South Viet Reveal Joint Plan

Aimed To Improve Living Standard Of South Vietnamese

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States and South Viet Nam have announced a broad program aimed at bringing speedy improvement in the living standards of the South Vietnamese people.

The objects of the joint effort, announced Thursday night by the State Department and in Saigon, is to rally popular support for the government of President Ngo Dinh Diem.

A frequently heard claim is that Communist guerrillas operating in the Southeast Asian country owe much of their success to reluctance of the South Vietnamese to fight for a regime they feel has done little for them.

The 11-point program of economic and social measures means a substantial increase in the U.S. economic assistance, although officials here would not disclose how much money is involved. The United States pumped $136 million in economic aid into South Viet Nam last year.

At the same time, U.S. officials reported no significant improvement in South Viet Nam as a result of the increase in American military assistance announced last month.

These officials said the situation in the sorely beset nation remains serious, with guerrilla forays continuing in the southern delta region, the high plateau area in the north and in the central plains.

U.S. Ambassador Frederick E. Nolting Jr. is due to return today for 10 days of consultation on the situation with Secretary of State Dean Rusk, President Kennedy and Assistant Secretary of State W. Averell Harriman.

The program announced Thursday includes: Training facilities for village officials, expanded rural health programs, expanded primary education, improved village radio network communications, new roads, expansion of the agricultural credit system and

Due Here From West Berlin

Gen. Clay Will Confer With Kennedy On Berlin

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gen. Lucius D. Clay will fly here from West Berlin this weekend to confer with President Kennedy and Secretary of State Dean Rusk on Berlin problems.

One purpose of the conference presumably is to discuss reported operational differences between U.S. officials in West Berlin and policymakers in Washington.

Clay is reported to have registered an objection with Rusk last month against instructions which sharply limit the freedom of action of the U.S. command in Berlin in dealing with a possible East German uprising along the East Berlin border wall.

High U.S. officials claim any differences between Clay and the administration are relatively minor in comparison with what they assert is basic agreement among Clay, Kennedy and Rusk on U.S. policy in Berlin.

Other informed authorities confirmed, however, that some differences do exist. Specifically, they say Clay feels strongly Washington cannot anticipate all possible emergencies which may arise and that authorities on the scene should have some power of action in such cases without waiting for detailed decisions from Washington.

From the administration's point of view, informants said, the problem is primarily one of deciding often at the White House level what action might be taken to serve long-range U.S. policy purposes. Moreover, officials said there is a constant need to consult with the North Atlantic Treaty Organization allies, particularly Britain, France and West Germany, and thus make sure of a coordinated response to any dangerous situation or new Communist challenge.

Clay is Kennedy's personal representative in West Berlin. He was the top American official in Germany at the time of the 1948-49 Communist blockade and his assignment to West Berlin by the President last summer was designed in part as a reassurance to the West Berliners that the United States intended to stand firm in their defense.

State Department officials said Clay's return to Washington for consultation had been planned for a week or more and was not related to the publication Thursday of reports he had objected to instructions which in his view limited too severely the freedom of action of the U.S. military commander in Berlin. Maj. Gen. Albert Watson.

The Washington Evening Star reported that Clay had strongly protested to Rusk that Watson was not being given enough latitude to deal with possible East German uprisings in the city.

In Berlin, a spokesman for Clay said the report of the protest was "ridiculous."

Apart from this, however, there have been persistent reports of differences between Clay and the administration. Generally, these represent Clay as favoring swift and decisive reactions where possible to Communist moves.

IBOP Wire Orders Men Back To Job

President Of Local Notified By Union Of Grievance Setup

Production was shut down today at the Hall China Co., idling approximately 300 employes, by picket lines established outside the plant by kilnfiremen Thursday afternoon at 4:30.

John T. Hall, president of the East End firm, said the picket lines were set up "in direct violation of the wage contract" as a result of a dispute over the issue of whether the company should be required to employ a kilnfiremen's helper when its production is down to two kilns.

An official of the International Brotherhood of Operative Potters agreed that the dispute concerns employment of kilnfiremen's helpers.

The international union has instructed the workers to return to their jobs pending settlement of the dispute and has sent a telegram to that effect to the president of the local involved, the union spokesman said.

The IBOP spokesman said the company bases its stand on the situation as it existed at the plant "back around 1933 to 1935." The international attempted to settle the dispute previously and suggested that the employes continue on their jobs pending a settlement, he said. All other plants in the area use a helper for kilnfiremen when operating two kilns, he added.

The company employs four kilnfiremen. The company said the walkout was precipitated when the four kilnfiremen's helpers were laid off.

In his statement Hall called upon the International Brotherhood of Operative Potters to order the employes to return to work while their grievance is processed "through the established grievance procedures."

Employes reporting for work today honored the picket lines, which were set up at the plant's main entrance on Anna Ave. and also at its two parking lots fronting on Harvey Ave.

Hall's statement said:

"The kiln firemen at the Hall China Co. have walked off the job and set up picket lines in direct violation of the wage contract.

"The contract prohibits strikes for the duration of the agreement and provides adequate grievance procedure which these employes have ignored.

"We expect the officials of the international union to honor their contractural relations promptly by returning these people to work and processing any grievance through the established grievance procedures."

In response to a query, Hall explained the company's understanding of the nature of the grievance.

"The grievance is based on whether we are required to have a kilnfiremen's helper when our production is reduced to two kilns. We don't feel we should and the kilnfiremen feel we should."

Experts Think Reds Trail By Half Year On Advanced ICBM

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. intelligence specialists believe the Soviet Union will trail the United States by about half a year in getting an advanced intercontinental ballistic missile ready for combat.

Informed sources said today the latest estimate is that the first such Soviet ICBM will be ready in early 1963.

The first solid-fuel Minuteman, this country's most advanced ICBM, is due to become operational this summer.

Updated intelligence information also indicates the Soviets, by pressing, may have three Polaris-type missile firing submarines by the end of this year. None has been seen so far.

The United States now has six nuclear powered submarines, each capable of firing 16 Polaris missiles deep into the Soviet Union. A seventh submarine is due to be commissioned in three weeks.

Before the end of this year the U.S. fleet will have a total of nine Polaris subs mounting 144 missiles.

The most recent intelligence estimates were believed to have been discussed by President Kennedy and top U.S. military leaders at meetings in Palm Beach, Fla., earlier this week.

Kennedy administration officials have felt for some time that the United States has an edge over the Soviets in deep-striking missiles.

The new intelligence estimates, sources said, point to a widening margin in favor of the United States when the Minutemen start coming along in numbers next year.

The most recent intelligence evaluations, sources said, credit the Soviets with what were called "startlingly few" liquid fuel ICBMs in place. They said the Soviets have three or four fewer than the United States, which

Pact To End Secession To Be Studied

ELISABETHVILLE, Katanga, the Congo (AP) — The Katanga Assembly today begins closed sessions to study the pact President Moise Tshombe signed pledging to end the province's secession.

The Assembly split into foreign affairs and political commissions to have secret discussions after Tshombe raised objections to two key provisions of the agreement he signed last month with Congo Premier Cyrille Adoula at Kitona.

A spokesman said the commissions would meet in secret for the next day or two.

Only 35 of the 72 members of the Assembly showed up for the first session Thursday, and only 9 of the 25 anti-Tshombe members from the Baluba tribe were among them. An Assembly spokesman suggested that the United Nations bring opposition deputies who had taken refuge in Leopoldville to Elisabethville immediately.

Without asking the deputies in so many words to reject the Kitona agreement, Tshombe objected to the first and last of its eight provisions. In the first, he had accented the Congo's provisional constitution, which makes Katanga a province under the control of the central government. In the last, he pledged to respect and help enforce U.N. resolutions, which call for an end of Katanga's secession and expulsion of the Katanga government's foreign military officers.

In fulfillment of another clause of the Kitona agreement, Katanga delegates began meeting in Leopoldville Thursday with central government officials to discuss revision of the Congo constitution.

Kennedy Sets Advisory And Tactical Talks

To Open Campaign On Domestic Plans Saturday Morning

PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP) — President Kennedy, eager to get his medical care, tax and tariff proposals on legislative wheels, flies back to Washington today for a series of tactical and advisory conferences.

Kennedy opens the advance campaign for his domestic program Saturday morning at the White House when he ranges over the outlook for the 1962 session of Congress with Chairman Wilbur Mills of the House Ways and Means Committee.

Mills' committee will handle legislation by which Kennedy hopes to provide medical care for the aged under the Social Security system, obtain tax incentives for industrial investment along with tax revisions to make up any loss in revenue, as well as authority to bargain with other governments for tariff reductions.

With Mills, the President's main project is to convert the Arkansas Democrat to support of the President's medical care plan.

Mills opposed the Social Security feature last year in favor of legislation he backed in 1960 with Sen. Robert S. Kerr, D-Okla., to aid state medical care programs. Congress adopted that approach.

Sources close to Kennedy say he expects to get his own medical care program through Congress and to gain at least a measure of success with his tax and tariff proposals.

Kennedy scheduled a 4 p.m. takeoff for Washington. He will be returning to the capital a day ahead of his original timetable.

Kennedy still plans to speak Saturday at a Democratic fund-raising dinner in Columbus on Ohio Gov. Michael V. DiSalle's birthday. Kennedy will return to Washington for Sunday talks on preparedness with Gen. Lucius D. Clay, his personal representative in Berlin, and Director John A. McCone of the Central Intelligence Agency.

Suspect Held In Attack On Pietranton

A Steubenville area man has been implicated by West Virginia State Police in the assault and attempted armed robbery of former Hancock County Prosecutor Frank A. Pietranton.

The prominent Weirton attorney has identified Edward Lewis Carrothers, 21, of Rayland R.D. 2 as one of two men who accosted him near his New Cumberland home Nov. 27, authorities said.

State police and Hancock County sheriff's deputies are continuing efforts to identify the second assailant.

Hancock County Prosecutor Floyd R. Tarr said today Carrothers is one of 18 he will seek to indict when the January Grand Jury convenes Tuesday morning in New Cumberland.

The prosecutor said he will seek an indictment charging Carrothers with attempted armed robbery in connection with the assault on Atty. Pietranton.

Carrothers and a cousin, Eugene, 22, are being held in Steubenville jail on charges of assault and robbery of an Adena man last Saturday.

The break in the case came when Cpl. C. W. Tighe of Weirton State Police noted a similarity in the mode of operation of the Pietranton assault and that on the Adena man, Robert Muzy.

Muzy was asleep in his car when two assailants attacked him and robbed him of $19.

Elderly Pair Left Destitute In House Fire

Y. & O. Rd. Couple Loses Home, All Their Possessions

An elderly Y. & O. Rd. couple was left destitute when fire destroyed their small, four - room home about 6:05 a. m. today.

Aroused by the smoke and heat, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Mays fled in their night clothing, losing all their possessions, including their last $45 pension check.

Harry Reckner, chief of the Glenmoor fire department, said there was no estimate of the loss and the cause was not determined. It was not insured.

Harry Bergener, a neighbor, phoned the department, which sent 22 men and three trucks and the squad car, but the flames were breaking through the roof of the one-story house when they arrived. Nothing could be saved.

William Mays, a brother, who resides in a home at the rear of the Mays property, ran to the Bergener home for help. The front of the William Mays home was scorched but the family removed the furnishings to the yard.

The destroyed property, situated near the R. & R. Coal tipple, was owned by a relative of the occupants. The elderly couple occupied only two rooms of the dwelling and the blaze apparently started in the vacant rooms.

They depended on a coal stove for heat in the two occupied rooms. The house had electricity

Drawings Of Spacecraft For Moon Ride Disclosed

WASHINGTON (AP) — The space agency made public today drawings of the Apollo spacecraft from which man may get his first close-up look at the moon.

The early model Apollo craft may enable its three-man crew to select likely landing areas for later versions designed to put human beings on the moon within this decade.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration also released three drawings showing the techniques of launching a manned spacecraft into earth orbit, launching a powerful booster rocket and supply vehicle into orbit close behind, and joining them in space for the long journey to the moon.

The huge orbiting booster rocket, starting its motors in the near vacuum of space after hooking onto the Apollo vehicle, would drop away after accelerating the Apollo to escape velocity.

The Apollo craft would proceed around the moon, come back into earth orbit, and then be slowed so as to re-enter the atmosphere and return the crew to earth.

Survey Starts On County Fallout Shelter Buildings

How many buildings in Columbiana County could serve as shelters from radioactive fallout?

An architectural - engineering firm has been hired by the federal government to find the answer.

Glaus, Pyle & Schomer of Akron and Youngstown started the fallout shelter survey this week and expects to complete the project by March.

The survey, which is being directed by the U. S. Army Corps of Engineers, is the first phase of a nationwide program recently announced by the Defense Department.

The objective is to enable more people to survive in the event of nuclear attack by locating and marking existing facilities that will provide protection against fallout.

The survey also will provide data to plan for improvement in shelter facilities.

Glaus, Pyle & Schomer will list on a census tract all structures that meet minimum protection specifications. The buildings must contain at least 500 square feet of potential shelter space — enough to accommodate 50 persons — and must be capable of reducing rad-

Pozenel Given 9th Term In Beaver Local

Dailey Re-Elected As Vice President, Greenwood Clerk

Jack Pozenel of West Point was elected to a ninth term as president of the Beaver Local Board of Education at a reorganization meeting Thursday night at the Public School.

The regular meeting nights were scheduled for the second Monday of each month, but for the first few months of the year, special meetings will be on the second Thursday because George Wilkinson is unable to attend the regular nights.

Chairmen and vice chairmen of committees were named, with others on the board available as members. The chairmen and vice chairman, listed in that order, are:

Athletic — R. J. Schiff and Arnold Green; finance — Dailey and Wilkinson; buildings and transportation — Green and Dailey; policy — Wilkinson and Schiff, and cafeteria — Pozenel and Schiff.

Jack Kuhlman of Columbiana was hired as a replacement for Harry West, English and foreign language instructor who has been given leave of absence to complete work for a master's degree.

A temporary appropriation of $300,000 was authorized to provide funds until the regular budget goes into effect.

The board authorized purchase of two bonds of the $253,000 issue approved by voters last year for construction of school additions.

The board will obtain the two $1,000 bonds for $980 each out of the $1,700 premium paid by the bonding company, receiving $75 in-

Suspect Held In Attack On Pietranton

A Steubenville area man has been implicated by West Virginia State Police in the assault and attempted armed robbery of former Hancock County Prosecutor Frank A. Pietranton.

The prominent Weirton attorney has identified Edward Lewis Carrothers, 21, of Rayland R.D. 2 as one of two men who accosted him near his New Cumberland home Nov. 27, authorities said.

State police and Hancock County sheriff's deputies are continuing efforts to identify the second assailant.

Hancock County Prosecutor Floyd R. Tarr said today Carrothers is one of 18 he will seek to indict when the January Grand Jury convenes Tuesday morning in New Cumberland.

The prosecutor said he will seek an indictment charging Carrothers with attempted armed robbery in connection with the assault on Atty. Pietranton.

Carrothers and a cousin, Eugene, 22, are being held in Steubenville jail on charges of assault and robbery of an Adena man last Saturday.

The break in the case came when Cpl. C. W. Tighe of Weirton State Police noted a similarity in the mode of operation of the Pietranton assault and that on the Adena man, Robert Muzy.

Muzy was asleep in his car when two assailants attacked him and robbed him of $19.

Elderly Pair Left Destitute In House Fire

Y. & O. Rd. Couple Loses Home, All Their Possessions

An elderly Y. & O. Rd. couple was left destitute when fire destroyed their small, four - room home about 6:05 a. m. today.

Aroused by the smoke and heat, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Mays fled in their night clothing, losing all their possessions, including their last $45 pension check.

Harry Reckner, chief of the Glenmoor fire department, said there was no estimate of the loss and the cause was not determined. It was not insured.

Harry Bergener, a neighbor, phoned the department, which sent 22 men and three trucks and the squad car, but the flames were breaking through the roof of the one-story house when they arrived. Nothing could be saved.

William Mays, a brother, who resides in a home at the rear of the Mays property, ran to the Bergener home for help. The front of the William Mays home was scorched but the family removed the furnishings to the yard.

The destroyed property, situated near the R. & R. Coal tipple, was owned by a relative of the occupants. The elderly couple occupied only two rooms of the dwelling and the blaze apparently started in the vacant rooms.

They depended on a coal stove for heat in the two occupied rooms. The house had electricity

Rig Hits Stopped Auto At Road Traffic Check

A Beaver Falls trucker was cited Thursday afternoon after his rig piled into the rear of a car at a traffic check on Route 14 just west of the Pennsylvania state line.

The Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon said Clark Brittain, 42, of Beaver Falls, headed west, rammed the rear of a car operated by Peter Miller, 52, of Aliquippa, who had stopped for a traffic check.

No one was injured and damage was minor, according to officers, who charged Brittain with failure to stop in the assured clear distance.

Drawings Of Spacecraft For Moon Ride Disclosed

The early model Apollo craft may enable its three-man crew to select likely landing areas for later versions designed to put human beings on the moon within this decade.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration also released three drawings showing the techniques of launching a manned spacecraft into earth orbit, launching a powerful booster rocket and supply vehicle into orbit close behind, and joining them in space for the long journey to the moon.

The huge orbiting booster rocket, starting its motors in the near vacuum of space after hooking onto the Apollo vehicle, would drop away after accelerating the Apollo to escape velocity.

The Apollo craft would proceed around the moon, come back into earth orbit, and then be slowed so as to re-enter the atmosphere and return the crew to earth.

Survey Starts On County Fallout Shelter Buildings

How many buildings in Columbiana County could serve as shelters from radioactive fallout?

An architectural - engineering firm has been hired by the federal government to find the answer.

Glaus, Pyle & Schomer of Akron and Youngstown started the fallout shelter survey this week and expects to complete the project by March.

The survey, which is being directed by the U. S. Army Corps of Engineers, is the first phase of a nationwide program recently announced by the Defense Department.

The objective is to enable more people to survive in the event of nuclear attack by locating and marking existing facilities that will provide protection against fallout.

The survey also will provide data to plan for improvement in shelter facilities.

Glaus, Pyle & Schomer will list on a census tract all structures that meet minimum protection specifications. The buildings must contain at least 500 square feet of potential shelter space — enough to accommodate 50 persons — and must be capable of reducing rad-

GOP Leader Raps Auditor

LISBON — "Unreasonable delay" in completing a reappraisal of county real estate will cost the county government $50,000 in taxes that might have been collected this year, Ernest U. Whitacre of Salem, county Republican chairman, charged Thursday night in a talk to the Mid-County Republican Club at Village Hall.

The county's current financial problem has been building up for a number of years, "but was brought to a critical point by the excessive spending of the Democratic-controlled Board of Commissioners in 1959-60," Whitacre charged.

He charged the commissioners with "extravagance" in spending $25,000 for equipping county offices with new furniture. He said the commissioners also spent $14,000 at the County Home for "unnecessary and unused items."

State Rep. Clarence L. Wetzel of Lisbon also spoke, charging that Gov. Michael V. DiSalle "misrepresented" the record of the Republican legislature. Citing instances of alleged misrepresentations, Wetzel listed appropriation records to substantiate his charges.

The club returned all its officers for new terms. They are: Mrs. Ray Davies, president; Mrs. Alton Crothers, first vice president; Atty. Joseph Baronzzi, second vice president, and Miss Della Wetzel, secretary. Mrs. Forrest McClintock and Mrs. Dorothy Kettlewell served refreshments.

Other measures will include projects to aid mountain tribes who have been a target of Communist subversion, special flood reconstruction work in the rebel-infested Mekong River delta, public works programs such as housing to help relieve unemployment and continued industrial development.

The joint communique followed an announcement last Saturday by the Viet Nam government of new financial steps to be taken to help support the increased costs of Viet Nam's defense efforts.

Included were an overhaul of the tax system and a special budget for economic development.

Beaver Lets Contract To Draft Master Plan

BEAVER — County commissioners Thursday accepted a proposal from Michael Baker Jr., Rochester consulting engineers, to prepare a general "master" plan for the county at a cost of $240,000.

The county will pay $60,000 to the Baker firm over a three-year period and the remaining $180,000 will be sought as a grant from the Federal Home and Housing Agency.

The commissioners also agreed to pay the Pittsburgh Regional Planning Commission $17,061 over a three-year period to aid the conference being organized into a southwest planning conference.

The county already has a $16,000 contract with the Baker firm for an industrial survey of the county with the state to pay half the cost.

Commissioners Allot Wellsville Dog Funds

LISBON — Columbiana County Commissioners Thursday paid $47.50 to Wellsville city for 95 dogs destroyed during December.

The commissioners also paid $1 each for two easements over the properties of Joseph H. and Wilda Smail and Donald D. Smail to improve Wayne Township Road 754.

Dedication of Hoppel Dr. in Section 26 in St. Clair Township, at the request of bordering land owners' was approved.

The next meeting will be Monday from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Democratic Women's Group Will Convene

Clay is returning to the capital amid reports of differences between Washington policymakers and U.S. officials in West Berlin on dealing with the situation in the divided German city. Presumably, this will figure in his talks with the President.

On Monday, the President is expected to meet with congressional leaders of both parties. He will be trying to muster support for his programs and soften opposition to them.

The chief executive departs in a more cheerful, if not contented, mood than when he sped to Palm Beach on Dec. 19 to be with his stricken father.

Former Ambassador Joseph P. Kennedy was in serious condition after suffering a stroke. Thursday, Pierre Salinger, White House press secretary, said the elder Kennedy continues to improve.

According to present plans Mrs. Kennedy will stay in Palm Beach with daughter Caroline, 4, and son John Jr. until next Wednesday. By returning then, she would be in Washington when Kennedy delivers his State of the Union Message to Congress, either Thursday or Friday.

Atty. Pietranton was accosted by two young men as he returned to his New Cumberland area home. They had blocked a rural road with their car, opening the trunk as an apparent ruse that the vehicle was disabled.

The prosecutor said the list of defendants who have been bound over to the January Grand Jury and face action Tuesday include:

Edward Keener of East Liverpool, felonious assault; George Alvin Visnic and Walter Cox Steiner, breaking and entering; Henry Taylor Jr., Starling Taylor and Doris Taylor, felonious assault.

Heywood Lyles of Weirton, larceny; Burley Roberts, third charge in five years of driving while intoxicated; Charles Conaway and Armando Martello, forgery and uttering instruments knowingly forged; Anna Gay Beagle, keeping, exhibiting and maintaining a gaming device, and Kenneth Edward Broadbent, arson.

Five Weirton residents are also facing indictments in connection with violation of state blue-laws, the prosecutor said.

Ohio Peace Groups Await Kennedy Visit

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Citizens "representing diverse peace organizations in this state" say they will converge on Columbus Saturday to present a statement to President Kennedy during his visit here.

The statement will encourage the President "in his quest for a peace race", the Central Ohio Committee of an organization calling itself "SANE" said.

The organization, the "National Committee for a Sane Nuclear Policy, Inc.", lists Norman Cousins and Clarence Pickett as co-chairmen with offices in New York City.

SANE said additional groups represented are the Women's International League for Peace and Freedom, the Voice of Women, the Women's Strike for Peace and the Student Peace Union.

Strongholds Gain Strength

Anti-Red Rebel Activity Increases In North Viet

By MALCOLM W. BROWNE

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Anti-Communist rebel activity in North Viet Nam is increasing sharply, according to government sources here.

Rebel strongholds in the inland highlands and the Red River Delta reportedly are gaining strength and causing major damage to communist plants and defense installations.

Among the areas listed as major resistance centers was the province of Nghean in the Red River delta, a region where much of the population is Roman Catholic. Communist reprisals against residents of the area reportedly have increased sharply.

The Hanoi government has tacitly acknowledged it is having problems with rebels. Nhan Dan, the official organ of the North Vietnamese Communist party, has been charging in recent weeks that guerrillas sent north by South Viet Nam and the United States have been working with peasant resistance groups in the highlands and causing widespread sabotage.

The Hanoi radio and press have been charging that agents are trying to infiltrate North Viet Nam in violation of the 1954 truce agreement ending the Indochina war. Hanoi concedes that there are centers of resistance, particularly in the remote highlands, which have not yielded to mopping up.

South Viet Nam and the United States deny they are sending agents north of the 17th Parallel, the demarcation line between north and South Viet Nam.

During the 1960 presidential campaign Democrats contended a serious "missile gap" was shaping up and would give the Soviets as much as a 3 to 1 advantage in ICBM's by the end of 1961.

The missile gap assumptions evidently were based on what was known of Soviet capacity to build, rather than on any firm knowledge of Soviet intentions.

The current U.S. program calls for emplacing 600 Minutemen in underground, protected bases by 1965. The new defense budget is expected to boost the total to about 800.

U.S. intelligence credits the Soviets with a decided—and worrisome—strength in 300-to-500-mile-range missiles in Europe, where they could be used against Western countries. Many of these missiles estimated to total 300 to 400 are said to be on mobile firing beds.

However, U.S. officials feel that American aircraft carrying nuclear bombs more than counterbalance this Soviet power.

Old Argument, New Issues

A couple of news stories out of Columbus this week illustrated for Ohioans the fact that balancing the power between the three major branches of government is a day-to-day problem, not just a theory in civics textbooks.

One reported the hiring of 125 more guards —first contingent of 179 to be employed— for the state's correctional institutions to comply with a new law cutting their basic work week from 44 to 40 hours.

The bill had bipartisan sponsorship and support in the 104th General Assembly, passing unanimously in both the House and the Senate. The Division of Correction staff agrees the change is a good thing, because other state employes already had 40-hour weeks and the guards' efficiency is expected to improve.

But, because it enlarges the payroll and gives present guards a 10 per cent raise in overtime pay, the new law costs money —about $600,000 a year.

THIS IS ONE of the points Gov. DiSalle has been trying to make in answering legislative complaints about his spending. He does not have absolute control over all administrative outlays. Some are mandated by legislators.

This does not mean Gov. DiSalle opposes adoption of a 40-hour week for guards. He signed the bill into law.

But he does object when the General Assembly on the one hand passes a bill enlarging payrolls and on the other reduces appropriations for the agencies involved, charging the executive branch with extravagance.

He cites as another example civil service pay increases approved by the legislature without corresponding approval of money to pay for them.

THE SECOND story reported the Ohio Supreme Court's upset of an executive order freezing admissions to the boys' and girls' industrial schools and setting up a quota system for the number of juveniles counties could send to the schools.

Juvenile judges raised a storm of protest last August when the freeze was instituted, labeling it executive interference in the judiciary. The high court agreed.

But after the court handed down its decision, a Cuyahoga County judge conceded overcrowding is a serious problem at the juvenile institutions and observed that sound rehabilitation of young offenders is difficult if not impossible under such conditions.

That is what Gov. DiSalle said last August when he ordered the freeze.

In this case, both the executive and judicial branches argue the legislature has the responsibility to provide money for more facilities and bigger staffs to correct the problems.

It will be interesting to see how well they get their point across when the General Assembly next meets in regular session.

'Good Hunting'

Borrowing Ed Sullivan's oft-repeated words, may that be a "really big show" in which district dinnerware manufacturers are preparing to participate at Atlantic City.

There never would be a better time economic-wise for an outstanding exhibit both from the standpoint of displays and from the final listings in the order books.

A summary of the various patterns offered indicates once more that the pottery industry has left no stone unturned in an effort to present practical, quality and attractive merchandise to the many buyers who flock to the showrooms Sunday through Friday.

The displays will be there. All that remains is for the final accounting.

Give To The March Of Dimes

East Liverpool and other district communities again have the opportunity to play their part in the annual March of Dimes campaign.

The fund appeal — with "Your Dimes Will Do It Again" as the theme—will continue through January.

With the means at hand for complete victory over polio, the National Foundation now is turning its vast strength — made possible by dedicated volunteer action and public generosity — to the conquest of the mysteries of birth defects and arthritis.

The dimes you contribute to the drive will help support scientific research into still unknown causes of human disability through education of research scientists and health workers desperately needed to put the results of research into practice and through a unique program of patient aid to help rebuild the lives of those crippled.

Birth defects, a field which has received little attention until recently, account for significant abnormalities in 1 of every 16 babies born. Arthritis cripples nearly one-third of a million Americans so severely they cannot work or function normally. Though polio is on the run, need more be said as to the value of the expanded Foundation program!

The March of Dimes support of a proven system of research, professional education and total patient care promises victory in the broader battle ahead comparable to triumphs of the past.

It is the hope that East Liverpool and neighboring communities do not drag their feet in the campaign. You can contribute in several ways — through the coin boxes that have been placed in business establishments, through the mail and through the various "Mothers' Marches" that will be held.

We Can Hope For The Best

The crash of a U2 airplane in the Pearl River Swamps near Picayune, Miss., close to the Gulf, is a routine news item. Keesler Air Base authorities have reported the pilot is safe and that his plane was on a routine flight from Del Rio, Texas, to Birmingham, Ala., and return.

If the casualness of the explanation strikes a familiar chord, it's because the last U2 came to earth in Russia and brought forth a bland explanation that it was on a weather mission. As it was to turn out later, it was on a military intelligence mission and when the story came out the United States learned for the first time from Russian sources that pilots like Francis Gary Powers, formerly of the U.S. Air Force, has been looking at ground installations in Russia from high-flying U2 airplanes for a long time.

The news was received in the United States with varying degrees of alarm and indignation, setting the stage for Premier Khrushchev's subsequent frothing fit when the summit meeting opened in Paris. There were some of us, however, who received the news with relief.

We had been wondering if our intelligence was going on inside the Soviet Union We had been wondering if this country's proverbial "Nice Nellyism" would cripple it in its knock-down-and-drag-out struggle for survival. We had been afraid that Americans had become too "nice" to spy on the kind of people who made no bones about spying on it.

We whooped with joy when we learned later that Francis Powers and others like him had been flying U2 planes back and forth across Russia like a shuttle service, taking pictures all over the place. A little while later we snickered when Premier Khrushchev broke up the Paris summit meeting because of the U2 incident, it was a cornball act. And there were times when we gagged too, because our fellow Americans (who should have known better) carped at their government for doing what every government needs to do for its own security.

What we're getting ready to say with this circuitous approach is that if the U2 that fell into the Mississippi swamp wasn't going to or from Cuba it should have been. We can hope for the best.

The Once Over

Billy Rose-Joyce Matthews remarriage (to each other) indicates Billy, in that 50-room mansion, couldn't stand hearing that song "All Alone by the 80,000 Shares Of Telephone."

As a poet said, "It takes a lot of AT&T to make a place called home," and even then it's no good without a wife. Mr. Rose used to be a song writer. He is now rich enough to endow ASCAP.

One of Rose's early jobs was with Barney Baruch. Baruch now goes to Billy for financial advice. In colorful life Rose was a lightning typist, secretary, circus man, state Broadway showman.

Of late he has put in most of time into own private brokerage house in residential palace. But once a song writer, always a song writer, and he decided song of songs was "Here Comes the Bride."

It must get unbearable to be knee deep in ticker tape, rattling around 50-room house, knowing there will be no answer to "Is lunch ready?" except from hired help.

And nothing is so comforting to a man as knowing he can always blame the "little woman" if he can't remember where he put his cuff links.

We wish the "newly-newlyweds" every happiness. Billy can't use the old excuse "I was detained at the office" since his residence is his place of business. He must be careful not to let the ticker tape litter up the whole place. And he had better not insist that honeymoon include a long trip through Wall Street, with frequent sentimental claims that the most romantic words ever spoken were "Watson, come here; I can hear you," when first phone test succeeded, leading ultimately to AT&T.

U THANT, new secretary general of U.N now has India, Russia, Czechoslovakia and the Arab Republic on the advisory board that works with him for peace. If he replies "Sez you!" to "Happy New Year" he can't be blamed.

David Astor, new comic, says "Psychiatrists say one out of every five people is emotionally disturbed. That's becasue the other four are nuts."

President proposes that United States buy 100 million of UN bonds. This is half total issue. Maybe this is not a bad investment for the long pull, even if critics say Uncle Sam seems to be asking for change of name to Uncle Patsy.

Arthur Godfrey will broadcast first trip of American astronaut in orbit. Arthur began as sailor but has been so high by plane and air program he knows exactly the feeling of being suspended in space.

Supreme Labor Court Proposed

By Victor Riesel

As we talked there was turbulence in the air. Reports were coming in of strikes or imminent stoppages which would paralyze a huge city; brown out a vast community; cripple a vital military air transport repair base; shut down missile construction — to mention just a few.

Victor Riesel

National labor chiefs were troubled. Management executives were angered. The President of the United States was awaiting a special report on labor peace in our time. The business leader across the table had a solution, one which will bring to him, it seems to me, considerably tough criticism.

He is George Ted Baker, founder, senior pilot and chairman of the board of National Airlines—and he wants the creation of a "Supreme Court of Labor," consisting of nine men to whom all vital strikes would be referred for settlement and from which there would be no appeal.

This was no jest, nor whimsey nor an offhand suggestion from the head of a multi-million dollar company which employs 4,000 men and women. Baker said on the record he would like to see John F. Kennedy set up such a court and, as on the high bench, name men to it for life.

"One of the problems this nation is going to have to solve, and soon," said Baker, "is the problem of eliminating strikes—equitably."

BAKER envisions the operation ending all strikes. The court would take over as soon as the regular labor-management bargaining broke down.

"If the New Frontier government," said Baker, "can end this fighting and feuding, it will have made a contribution of the most far-reaching importance to this nation and its people."

Ted Baker is known in his industry as an outspoken man, and after listening I now know why.

Strikes, he said, knowing well that he would bring down on himself the thunder of many labor leaders, mediators and government people, must go because they are destructive. "They hurt not only management but also the striking union workers and the public, which is now defenseless to protect itself against the economic damage strikes cause.

"A FEW labor union leaders, bred in the tradition of old battles between labor and management, will cling to the strike as the chief weapon in the arsenal of labor. But the vast majority of union members today don't cherish the right to strike. . . . Some union leaders like the power to strike. I think the majority of union workers would like to surrender that power if they had the assurance that they would get a fair shake as to their pay. I feel sure they prefer security to the power to wreck the business in which they are employed."

A "Supreme Court of Labor," according to Baker, would consider not only the claims of both sides, but the economic position of the entire industry involved, and the impact of the decision on the nation.

"It could," asserts Baker, "curb pay raises when they offer a dangerously inflationary threat, allow wage increases when production and profits are high."

I broke in to remind Baker that a high court which set wages could not ignore prices. This would put price control in the hands of nine men appointed by a president of the U.S. Baker retorted that there is virtual price control—directly or indirectly—"anyway." He pointed to his own industry where passenger rates must be approved by the Civil Aeronautics Board.

THERE WERE other industries, in and out of the public utility field, where prices, in effect, are controlled, he added.

Neither management nor labor, said Baker, would surrender any vital right to such a court because of the elimination of the right to strike. "I feel that most of the people representing both management and labor today realize that we are headed down a dead-end road at present. With few exceptions, I believe they would welcome the provision of a new, impartial solution by the government, a way out of the impasse."

BAKER SAID his airline now had fewer persons on its payroll than in four years but that the average monthly salary is 15 per cent higher in '61, than in '60.

"We cannot long survive," he added, "by meeting labor costs with decreases in personnel. This is also a destructive course. Perhaps. . . a moratorium should be placed on the labor contracts insofar as they deal with cost items. This would be in keeping with the urgings of President Kennedy and his labor advisors."

But, he says, labor is traditionally bound to ask for more and more, and management must either capitulate or face a strike. Only a "Supreme Court of Labor" can reach a fair and impartial solution—"peaceably."

This is strong talk. There will be many dissents.

Time For Realism

By David Lawrence

Administration Seen Ignoring Past Lessons

This is the season of review and outlook. Yet nobody today really knows the future of American business for even a year ahead. All that can be of guidance is what has actually happened in the last few years and it is evident already that the Kennedy administration has decided to ignore the lessons of the past and to try again the same devices that haven't worked before.

David Lawrence

Basically, the present administration is often advised by theorists who sincerely seek solutions based on economic factors, but these come into collision inevitably with the demands of pressure groups and politics.

If it weren't for the fact that politics rules above all else, there would be grounds for optimism about the future of business. But because politics, with its irresponsibility in government, is the controlling force, the chances are that more recessions, more unemployment and the quack remedies of pump priming may be expected to dominate the headlines within the next six to 18 months.

Businessmen are supposed to be "hostile" to the administration. Secretary of Commerce Luther Hodges is running around the country trying to butter them up but, unfortunately, he is regarded as a man without any real influence in the Kennedy administration.

He got in wrong with many businessmen when he virtually wrecked the Business Advisory Council, which had for many decades served a useful function in the Department of Commerce. As a result of Mr. Hodges' private sessions with businessmen in various cities in recent weeks, the United Press International has just reported as follows:

"On the basis of eight off-the-record discussions in seven big cities and other contacts with businessmen, Hodges has concluded that it is mainly the officers of big firms, not small businessmen, who are hostile to the administration or who accuse it of being hostile to them. That hardly surprises the white haired ex-governor of North Carolina, for he figures that big businessmen are pro-Republican anyway."

UNFORTUNATELY, this country is supposed to be divided between "Big Business" and "Big Labor," and the administration usually takes the side of the trade unions, though in the long run the interrelationship of the two has more to do with the ups and downs of the curve on the chart of business conditions than any other single factor.

Thus, over the weekend, the same old story bobbed up again in print. All the leading trade journals that report in detail the flow of orders in the steel industry came out with forecasts of a "boom" in steel for the early part of 1962 but there's a fly in the ointment.

One dispatch says that consumer inventories are expected to rise before June to 11.5 million tons, which constitutes "three months' supply." This is but another way of saying that steel users are preparing to protect themselves against a prospective strike. In fact, almost every one of the reports in the trade journals attributes the sudden upsurge in steel orders to the expected steel strike in June.

If there is no strike, of course, steel production will drop considerably after June, and a "slowdown" in related industries will begin, as it did when the 1959 strike came to an end. This time, however, if there is a wage increase, there will be a price increase.

Ever since President Kennedy wrote last autumn to the steel companies and labor leaders warning them against factors that would upset price stability, the country has been aware of an unsolved problem of serious proportions.

Mr. Kennedy had an opportunity in his addresses last month before the National Association of Manufacturers in New York and the AFL-CIO in Miami to come to grips with this very issue. But he really sidestepped it. The political pitfalls evidently were too risky.

STATESMANSHIP is more than ever required. The country does not expect businessmen to be hostile to the administration and certainly the administration should not be hostile to business. Yet the news from Washington regularly tells of plans that can upset business.

From every side, moreover, comes the story of the "profit squeeze" in business due to rising labor costs.

The Treasury expects a balanced budget — if business thrives. But to get $10 billion more tax receipts from business and individuals in the next fiscal year and achieve a balanced budget would seem to be out of the question if a serious recession hits the country.

The balance-of-payments situation is also grave. It is not being aided by reports of tax measures aimed to restrict American enterprises which have plants overseas and which are competing effectively with foreign companies and also bringing back huge dividends to the United States.

There are news dispatches, too, telling of administration plans to ask Congress to give the President the power arbitrarily to raise or lower taxes in the United States. Nothing could be more calculated to frighten business and disrupt long-range planning.

Meanwhile, European industry, with its lower wage costs, is threatening to cut down America's export trade. It's a time for realism as well as statesmanship.

Letters To The Editor

This letter is about what the new freeway has done to the section of the city known as Sunnyside.

It has done away with MacDonald St., Chestnut St. and John St. and made two dead-ends out of 9th St. 9th St. was a good level street that ran from Dresden Ave. to Pleasant Heights. Now we have to come out 8th and there they built a new road up to 9th on to May St. This road is steep and has a sharp curve at top and bottom and is rather dangerous in bad weather. We thought we had enough hilly streets in our city, but now we have another.

The buses ran out 9th St. and we had only one hill to climb. Now they run out 8th and we have two hills to climb. There are a good many older people who live up here who feel they are too old to start driving cars. Some of them live on social security and can't afford taxicabs since they raised the fare to 80 cents.

I suppose some will ask, "If it is so bad, why don't you move?" Most of us own our homes and since they made it so hard to get up you just can't sell property at any price let alone get what you have invested.

But you don't see any one coming around to cut taxes. One of our ex-councilmen bought a house up here as an investment. It's been empty a long time now. So have several others. I have written several letters to The Review on various subjects that were strictly my own opinion. This matter, however, is not my opinion alone. It is that of all the people in this district. We have a petition ready to present to Council and the Highway Department asking them to keep 9th St. open. Why they closed it we can't figure out.

Why don't you send a reporter out with a camera, take some pictures, interview some of the people and print what you find out? It might help us get a fair deal.

Supreme Labor Court Proposed

By Victor Riesel

As we talked there was turbulence in the air. Reports were coming in of strikes or imminent stoppages which would paralyze a huge city; brown out a vast community; cripple a vital military air transport repair base; shut down missile construction — to mention just a few.

Victor Riesel

National labor chiefs were troubled. Management executives were angered. The President of the United States was awaiting a special report on labor peace in our time. The business leader across the table had a solution, one which will bring to him, it seems to me, considerably tough criticism.

He is George Ted Baker, founder, senior pilot and chairman of the board of National Airlines—and he wants the creation of a "Supreme Court of Labor," consisting of nine men to whom all vital strikes would be referred for settlement and from which there would be no appeal.

This was no jest, nor whimsey nor an offhand suggestion from the head of a multi-million dollar company which employs 4,000 men and women. Baker said on the record he would like to see John F. Kennedy set up such a court and, as on the high bench, name men to it for life.

"One of the problems this nation is going to have to solve, and soon," said Baker, "is the problem of eliminating strikes—equitably."

BAKER envisions the operation ending all strikes. The court would take over as soon as the regular labor-management bargaining broke down.

"If the New Frontier government," said Baker, "can end this fighting and feuding, it will have made a contribution of the most far-reaching importance to this nation and its people."

Ted Baker is known in his industry as an outspoken man, and after listening I now know why.

Strikes, he said, knowing well that he would bring down on himself the thunder of many labor leaders, mediators and government people, must go because they are destructive. "They hurt not only management but also the striking union workers and the public, which is now defenseless to protect itself against the economic damage strikes cause.

"A FEW labor union leaders, bred in the tradition of old battles between labor and management, will cling to the strike as the chief weapon in the arsenal of labor. But the vast majority of union members today don't cherish the right to strike. . . . Some union leaders like the power to strike. I think the majority of union workers would like to surrender that power if they had the assurance that they would get a fair shake as to their pay. I feel sure they prefer security to the power to wreck the business in which they are employed."

A "Supreme Court of Labor," according to Baker, would consider not only the claims of both sides, but the economic position of the entire industry involved, and the impact of the decision on the nation.

"It could," asserts Baker, "curb pay raises when they offer a dangerously inflationary threat, allow wage increases when production and profits are high."

I broke in to remind Baker that a high court which set wages could not ignore prices. This would put price control in the hands of nine men appointed by a president of the U.S. Baker retorted that there is virtual price control—directly or indirectly—"anyway." He pointed to his own industry where passenger rates must be approved by the Civil Aeronautics Board.

THERE WERE other industries, in and out of the public utility field, where prices, in effect, are controlled, he added.

Neither management nor labor, said Baker, would surrender any vital right to such a court because of the elimination of the right to strike. "I feel that most of the people representing both management and labor today realize that we are headed down a dead-end road at present. With few exceptions, I believe they would welcome the provision of a new, impartial solution by the government, a way out of the impasse."

BAKER SAID his airline now had fewer persons on its payroll than in four years but that the average monthly salary is 15 per cent higher in '61, than in '60.

"We cannot long survive," he added, "by meeting labor costs with decreases in personnel. This is also a destructive course. Perhaps. . . a moratorium should be placed on the labor contracts insofar as they deal with cost items. This would be in keeping with the urgings of President Kennedy and his labor advisors."

But, he says, labor is traditionally bound to ask for more and more, and management must either capitulate or face a strike. Only a "Supreme Court of Labor" can reach a fair and impartial solution—"peaceably."

This is strong talk. There will be many dissents.

Odd Facts

Eleven of the nation's top 20 retailers of 1960 (according to sales) were supermarket chains. To help inform consumers of what's on their shelves, supermarkets allocate 86 per cent of their promotion budgets for daily newspaper advertising.

Americans today have 62 per cent more money to spend than they had 10 years ago. Local advertisers, in keeping pace with this increased buying power, have upped their investment in newspaper advertising 68 per cent over the past 10 measurable years.

Time For Realism

By David Lawrence

Administration Seen Ignoring Past Lessons

This is the season of review and outlook. Yet nobody today really knows the future of American business for even a year ahead. All that can be of guidance is what has actually happened in the last few years and it is evident already that the Kennedy administration has decided to ignore the lessons of the past and to try again the same devices that haven't worked before.

David Lawrence

Basically, the present administration is often advised by theorists who sincerely seek solutions based on economic factors, but these come into collision inevitably with the demands of pressure groups and politics.

If it weren't for the fact that politics rules above all else, there would be grounds for optimism about the future of business. But because politics, with its irresponsibility in government, is the controlling force, the chances are that more recessions, more unemployment and the quack remedies of pump priming may be expected to dominate the headlines within the next six to 18 months.

Businessmen are supposed to be "hostile" to the administration. Secretary of Commerce Luther Hodges is running around the country trying to butter them up but, unfortunately, he is regarded as a man without any real influence in the Kennedy administration.

He got in wrong with many businessmen when he virtually wrecked the Business Advisory Council, which had for many decades served a useful function in the Department of Commerce. As a result of Mr. Hodges' private sessions with businessmen in various cities in recent weeks, the United Press International has just reported as follows:

"On the basis of eight off-the-record discussions in seven big cities and other contacts with businessmen, Hodges has concluded that it is mainly the officers of big firms, not small businessmen, who are hostile to the administration or who accuse it of being hostile to them. That hardly surprises the white haired ex-governor of North Carolina, for he figures that big businessmen are pro-Republican anyway."

UNFORTUNATELY, this country is supposed to be divided between "Big Business" and "Big Labor," and the administration usually takes the side of the trade unions, though in the long run the interrelationship of the two has more to do with the ups and downs of the curve on the chart of business conditions than any other single factor.

Thus, over the weekend, the same old story bobbed up again in print. All the leading trade journals that report in detail the flow of orders in the steel industry came out with forecasts of a "boom" in steel for the early part of 1962 but there's a fly in the ointment.

One dispatch says that consumer inventories are expected to rise before June to 11.5 million tons, which constitutes "three months' supply." This is but another way of saying that steel users are preparing to protect themselves against a prospective strike. In fact, almost every one of the reports in the trade journals attributes the sudden upsurge in steel orders to the expected steel strike in June.

If there is no strike, of course, steel production will drop considerably after June, and a "slowdown" in related industries will begin, as it did when the 1959 strike came to an end. This time, however, if there is a wage increase, there will be a price increase.

Ever since President Kennedy wrote last autumn to the steel companies and labor leaders warning them against factors that would upset price stability, the country has been aware of an unsolved problem of serious proportions.

Mr. Kennedy had an opportunity in his addresses last month before the National Association of Manufacturers in New York and the AFL-CIO in Miami to come to grips with this very issue. But he really sidestepped it. The political pitfalls evidently were too risky.

STATESMANSHIP is more than ever required. The country does not expect businessmen to be hostile to the administration and certainly the administration should not be hostile to business. Yet the news from Washington regularly tells of plans that can upset business.

From every side, moreover, comes the story of the "profit squeeze" in business due to rising labor costs.

The Treasury expects a balanced budget — if business thrives. But to get $10 billion more tax receipts from business and individuals in the next fiscal year and achieve a balanced budget would seem to be out of the question if a serious recession hits the country.

The balance-of-payments situation is also grave. It is not being aided by reports of tax measures aimed to restrict American enterprises which have plants overseas and which are competing effectively with foreign companies and also bringing back huge dividends to the United States.

There are news dispatches, too, telling of administration plans to ask Congress to give the President the power arbitrarily to raise or lower taxes in the United States. Nothing could be more calculated to frighten business and disrupt long-range planning.

Meanwhile, European industry, with its lower wage costs, is threatening to cut down America's export trade. It's a time for realism as well as statesmanship.

Letters To The Editor

This letter is about what the new freeway has done to the section of the city known as Sunnyside.

It has done away with MacDonald St., Chestnut St. and John St. and made two dead-ends out of 9th St. 9th St. was a good level street that ran from Dresden Ave. to Pleasant Heights. Now we have to come out 8th and there they built a new road up to 9th on to May St. This road is steep and has a sharp curve at top and bottom and is rather dangerous in bad weather. We thought we had enough hilly streets in our city, but now we have another.

The buses ran out 9th St. and we had only one hill to climb. Now they run out 8th and we have two hills to climb. There are a good many older people who live up here who feel they are too old to start driving cars. Some of them live on social security and can't afford taxicabs since they raised the fare to 80 cents.

I suppose some will ask, "If it is so bad, why don't you move?" Most of us own our homes and since they made it so hard to get up you just can't sell property at any price let alone get what you have invested.

But you don't see any one coming around to cut taxes. One of our ex-councilmen bought a house up here as an investment. It's been empty a long time now. So have several others. I have written several letters to The Review on various subjects that were strictly my own opinion. This matter, however, is not my opinion alone. It is that of all the people in this district. We have a petition ready to present to Council and the Highway Department asking them to keep 9th St. open. Why they closed it we can't figure out.

Why don't you send a reporter out with a camera, take some pictures, interview some of the people and print what you find out? It might help us get a fair deal.

The surveyors also will estimate the daytime and night-time populations of various areas of the county.

Cordell R. Glaus of the architectural-engineering firm estimated that 400 buildings will be surveyed in Columbiana County in the next three months. He came to East Liverpool Thursday afternoon to consult with Civil Defense officials on details of the study.

Glaus said the initial sources of data will be tax assessor's records, zoning maps and building and fire inspection reports.

Much of the data necessary for the project can be obtained from these records and from external inspection, he said. However, in some cases survey teams will have to contact property-owners in order to obtain additional information, he said.

Subsequent phases of the program have been planned to improve the capability of available shelters by increasing protection; to provide emergency food, water and other supplies and to construct additional shelters where they may be required.

Engineers will estimate the cost of improving habitability of the buildings at least to minimum standards and of making the structures capable of reducing radiation to a level one hundredth of that outside.

Signs will be placed on the outside of the buildings. Civil Defense officials will stock the shelters from federal inventories.

Provisions will include 108,000 calories of food and three and a half gallons of water per person —a two-week supply — medical and engineering supplies, radiation measuring instruments, radios and chemical toilets.

Directing the survey will be Glaus and R. J. Schomer, who recently completed a fallout shelter analysis course conducted by the Corps of Engineers at Ft. Belvoir, Va.

The government also has hired the concern to make similar surveys in Jefferson County and in Akron.

Police Ordered To Use Anti-Gambling Law

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP)—Police Chief William R. Golden has ordered all police to use the state new anti-gambling law in arrests involving racketeers.

The first offense under the law is a misdemeanor and the second a felony, with a maximum $1,000 fine and 1-3 years in prison.

Home Director, Matron To Leave

EAST PALESTINE — Mr. and Mrs. Edward Patzsch, supervisor and matron at the Kyes Children's Receiving Home for the past 18 months, today were packing their belongings preparing to leave the home, which has been closed.

The Patzsches indicated they plan to take a vacation, before deciding what their future plans will be. They formerly resided in Wellsville.

The last youngster was withdrawn over the weekend from the home, which is to be discontinued because of lack of operating funds, officials said.

The closing of the home is part of a general economy move resulting from cutbacks of 15 per cent in funds for county departments, due to a decreased budget for 1962.

Woman Hospitalized In Blaze At Lisbon

LISBON — Mrs. Betty Laughlin, 56, entered Salem City Hospital after smoke inhalation from a fire that damaged a wall in her second-floor apartment at 116 N. Market St. about 2:18 a. m. today.

Mrs. Laughlin was awakened by smoke, called firemen and aroused two girls, 12 and 13, children of another occupant at work at the time and all fled down rear stairs as a police cruiser arrived.

Firemen said the blaze originated in a box containing rug pad, clothing and papers which was sitting on an unlighted heater. Cause of the blaze was not determined. A physician treated Mrs. Laughlin and ordered her to the hospital. The apartment is over Mac's Discount Store and is owned by Carl Turk of Signal.

Mrs. Laughlin will be released from the hospital today.

Strip Steel Manager Named At Weirton

WEIRTON — Harold W. Garrison has been named manager of the strip steel department at the Weirton Steel Co., succeeding Earl D. James, who has retired but will remain with the company as a consultant to the operating department.

Two other promotions were made in the strip steel department resulting from James' retirement.

Garrison, who is advancing from assistant manager, will be succeeded by Silas H. Riffee, who becomes Assistant Manager, and Wesley Kelley, from superintendent of the 54-inch Hot Mill to superintendent of the strip steel department.

They said that while the astronauts would be seated for the launching, they would have a considerable amount of room in which to move about in flight. The roomy crew quarters were not shown in the compressed sketch.

The Apollo craft will be made up of sections that can be attached as required for different missions.

The command section, in the forward end of the lunar craft, contains mission control equipment, crew quarters, the equipment to support human life during flights of several weeks, and the devices involved in re-entry into the earth's atmosphere.

Other sections would provide equipment for guidance and navigation, moon reconnaissance and high speed re-entry and recovery.

North American Aviation Inc. has been awarded a $400 million contract to build the Apollo spacecraft. The space agency will direct the Apollo program from a new manned spacecraft center at Houston, Tex.

The early Apollo flights will be launched by Saturn rockets.

Early Eye Exam Possible

Q. Is it possible for an eye doctor to test a child's eyes before the youngster learns his letters?

A. Yes. There are ways to test sight other than by having the subject read a chart. When eye examination is desirable the preschool child may be asked to identify drawings such as those shown in the illustration.

Ballet Walk

Q. In my ballet class the teacher insists that we walk with toe extended, pressing first the toe, then the ball, and lastly the heel on the floor. Our gym teacher says we must "walk on the heel." Could walking in the "ballet" manner harm the foot?

A. The normal or ideal way to walk is "heel first." No possible harm, however, can result from the ballet technic. This strengthens all of the foot muscles, which should make correct walking easier when not practicing ballet.

Bright's Disease

Q. I have heard there is a rare kidney disease called Doctor Albright's disease, discovered in recent years. Is it curable?

A. Dr. Fuller Albright's name is associated with two rather rare conditions but neither directly involve the kidney. The reader may be referring to "Bright's disease." In 1827, Dr. Richard Bright described a group of kidney diseases which "terminated in dropsy." Dropsy, a word seldom used today, means the accumulation of watery fluid in body tissues and cavities, causing swelling. For many years every sort of urinary disorder was called "Bright's disease." It is now known that the kidneys can be affected in many ways, so the general term "Bright's disease" isn't used very often.

Warm Spell Produces Mixed-Up Butterfly

Paul E. Miller, 416 Blakeley St., was amazed when he observed three butterflies flitting about his yard Thursday. Then he noticed the thermometer was near 50 degrees.

That probably accounted for the butterflies' decision to try their wings in January rather than wait for spring.

He managed to snare one in a jar for evidence of the freak of nature and the small insect was identified as a cabbage butterfly, with pale yellow wings and a violet "O" marking on each. Known as pieris rapae, it became a pest when brought over from Europe about 1860. As a caterpillar, it feeds on cabbage.

Educational Plan Eyed On Civil Defense

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio's superintendent of public instruction, E. E. Holt, says he will ask the state school board to approve a Civil Defense adult education program in Ohio.

Specifically, Holt said he would ask the board when it meets next Monday for authority to enter into a contract with the U. S. Commissioner of Education to carry out the program.

"In our opinion this instruction would provide a real opportunity to the citizens of our state," Holt said. "The course appears to be well planned to meet a very real need."

The program, sponsored by the U.S. Department of Defense and the U.S. Office of Education, provides a course of instruction for personal and family protection in case of disaster, both war and peacetime. The program was first tried out in Florida, Kentucky, Minnesota and Texas during the 1959-60 school year, and later extended to other states.

Fiery Objects In Sky Apparently Meteors

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The fiery display over Western Ohio skies Wednesday night apparently were meteors, the Air Force reports.

The Air Force said the earth moved through the "Quadrantios" —a belt of meteors—from Monday through Thursday with the maximum activity coming Wednesday.

Reports of the fiery aerial show came from all over Western Ohio. Some of the reports were that the balls of fire were seen for several seconds and left a white or bluish trail. The Air Force, however, explained that the larger meteorites will leave trails and some explosions are audible.

Adenauer Turns 86, New Name Suggested

BONN, Germany (AP) — West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer turned 86 today and one official suggested a new nickname for him.

Ever since Adenauer took over the leadership of West Germany in 1949 he has been known—affectionately by his friends and sarcastically by his foes—as der alte, the old man. Today, one of his officials quipped he should be renamed der ur-alte, the ancient one.

Mrs. Kennedy Again First Lady Of Fashion

NEW YORK (AP)— America's First Lady has again been elected the world's first lady of fashion and is joined on the 1961 best-dressed list by her sister and a Palm Beach neighbor.

Jacqueline Kennedy was a landslide winner in the annual poll conducted by the New York Couture Group, Inc., of some 2,000 fashion experts, writers and designers throughout the world.

The group's style committee said she brought "the Kennedy era of young elegance." She also headed the 1960 list.

The First Lady's sister, Princess Lee Radziwill, and Mrs. Charles Wrightsman, a friend and neighbor, were also among the 12 women on the official 1961 list.

The committee also announced election to the Fashion Hall of Fame, a permanent group selected from three-time winners on the annual poll, of Mrs. Norman K. Winston of Paris and New York and actress Audrey Hepburn.

Runnerup to Mrs. Kennedy on the 1961 list was Mrs. Loel Guinness of Paris and Palm Beach, a Mexican-born grandmother described by some fashion journalists as "the most elegant woman in the world."

The complete 1961 list:

Mrs. John F. Kennedy, wife of the President.

Mrs. Loel Guiness, wife of an international banker.

Princess Stanislas Radziwill, London.

Queen Sirikit of Thailand.

Mrs. David Bruce, wife of U.S. ambassador to Britain.

Princess Alexandra of Kent.

Mrs. Charles Wrightsman, New York and Palm Beach, wife of an oil millionaire.

Mrs. John Barry Ryan III, New York.

The committee said that the list after Mrs. Kennedy and Mrs. Guiness, denotes no particular vote ranking.

Miss Hepburn, who is Mrs. Mel Ferrer offstage, and Mrs. Winston now leave the annual list competition by virtue of their elevation to join 16 members of the Hall of Fame.

work it out. Yet, significantly,

Sales Tax Paid Deductible From Federal Returns

CLEVELAND (AP)—Ohio sales tax payments made during the year may be deducted from federal income tax returns at a rate based on gross income computed by the Internal Revenue Service.

IRS has issued a table of deductions ranging from $19 on gross income under $1,000 to $195 on income of $19,000 to $20,000.

Before last year taxpayers were allowed to deduct 1 per cent of their income with a maximum of $100 for payment of sales taxes on normal purchases.

Burton said sales taxes paid on such large purchases as cars, household appliances and fur coats were still deductible but could not be based on the table IRS issued.

Two Labor Leaders Hit Cost Of Surgery

CINCINNATI (AP) — Two Cincinnati labor leaders have complained about costs of surgery. Al Bilik, president, and George Jent, executive secretary of the City AFL-CIO Council, said in a letter Thursday to Hospital Care Corp., the Blue Cross Agency for Southwestern Ohio:

"It is our impression that many doctors view the fee schedule as a minimum upon which to build their charges to patients."

They suggested a plan of guaranteed payments for subscribers who earn under $7,500 yearly, or a full-payment plan in cooperation with certain doctors "who truly subscribe to the Hippocratic Oath."

Early Eye Exam Possible

Q. Is it possible for an eye doctor to test a child's eyes before the youngster learns his letters?

A. Yes. There are ways to test sight other than by having the subject read a chart. When eye examination is desirable the preschool child may be asked to identify drawings such as those shown in the illustration.

Ballet Walk

Q. In my ballet class the teacher insists that we walk with toe extended, pressing first the toe, then the ball, and lastly the heel on the floor. Our gym teacher says we must "walk on the heel." Could walking in the "ballet" manner harm the foot?

A. The normal or ideal way to walk is "heel first." No possible harm, however, can result from the ballet technic. This strengthens all of the foot muscles, which should make correct walking easier when not practicing ballet.

Bright's Disease

Q. I have heard there is a rare kidney disease called Doctor Albright's disease, discovered in recent years. Is it curable?

A. Dr. Fuller Albright's name is associated with two rather rare conditions but neither directly involve the kidney. The reader may be referring to "Bright's disease." In 1827, Dr. Richard Bright described a group of kidney diseases which "terminated in dropsy." Dropsy, a word seldom used today, means the accumulation of watery fluid in body tissues and cavities, causing swelling. For many years every sort of urinary disorder was called "Bright's disease." It is now known that the kidneys can be affected in many ways, so the general term "Bright's disease" isn't used very often.

As 1962 Arrives

East End Postal Facility Still Lacks New Quarters

Patrons of the Station A Post Office probably should adopt the slogan, "New in '62" because of the many promises — still unfulfilled — to erect a new postal facility in the East End, Postmaster Samuel W. Brown and Theodore W. Burke, Station A superintendent, commented today in reporting yearly receipts of the East End office.

Brown said "temporary" quarters on Mulberry St. have hurt the postal business in the East End because of a lack of parking facilities.

"When the office was located on Pennsylvania Ave., people could stop en route to pottery or mill work. As soon as we moved, however, they no longer saw the office so did not stop. Even if they had wanted to stop, they couldn't — the parking facilities are nil," Brown declared.

The Post Office Department has made surveys and knows what it wants, but so far has not obtained a suitable site.

Brown urged something should be done "soon because of numerous complaints he has received. "I believe the East End patrons should have a new facility. The sooner the better."

In his yearly report, Burke said office receipts totaled $19,066 compared to $21,656 in 1960, a drop of $2,590.

The receipts do not include the $3,280 collected as fees on the 13,417 money orders sold at Station A nor does it include the $250,000 which represents the total of the money orders, Burke said. The fees and amounts are not credited to any office in the overall business receipts.

Burke expressed disappointment the new facility has not even been started despite many new offices that have been erected in the Tri-State area.

City Crew Completes Repair On Water Line

A city water department crew completed repairs about 3 p. m. Thursday on a broken line along the River Rd., allowing restoration of service for 20 homes.

Supt. Donald T. Duke said the break was found in an old four-inch "fire line," which formerly served a long-abandoned River Rd. pottery plant. Many of the old "fire lines" still are in place and "live" along that stretch, he explained. The break was closed with a repair clamp.

A 10-foot excavation was made to uncover the break. The River Rd. homes were without service after the repair work started yesterday morning. The break was in a line alongside the highway near the American Oil Co. bulk plant.

Search Continued For 3 Young Inmates

ELYRIA, Ohio (AP)—A search continued today for three young inmates who walked away from the nearby Grafton State Prison Farm Thursday night. Police said they were not considered dangerous.

Board To Let Contract For Vote Supplies

The County Election Board will meet this afternoon at its W. 6th St. office to award contracts for ballots and poll books for a special election Tuesday, Feb. 13, in the Southern Local School District on a question whether part of the district's area should be permitted to withdraw and unite with Carroll County school administrative areas.

Frank R. O'Hanlon, clerk of the board, said sealed bids on ballots have been received from the Wellsville Press, the Wilson Printing House of Market St. and the Dodge Publishing Co. of Salem.

Offers on poll books have been submitted by the Columbus Blank Book Co. and the Herr Printing Co., both of Columbus, and the Johnson-Watson Printing Co. of Dayton.

O'Hanlon said he expects to recommend that the board follow the so-called "economy" plan permitted by state law in special elections. The law permits the board to staff the precincts with four judges and clerks — rather than the usual six — and pay them $12 instead of $16 for the day's work.

The district has 13 precincts, including Brush Creek of Jefferson County, but O'Hanlon said the board may assign the voters in two precincts to cast their ballots at adjoining polling places as another economy move.

Affected would be the East Precinct of Yellow Creek Township, where no Southern Local votes were cast in the November general election, and the South Precinct of Center Township, in which only two school district ballots were cast in November.

If the plan is followed, the voters in the East Precinct of Yellow Creek will be assigned to the Glasgow Precinct of Madison Township, which votes at the Yellow Creek Grange Hall, and the voters in South of Center Township will be assigned to the Wayne Township Precinct, located in the Wayne Township House on Route 164 at Gavers.

Eliminating the two precincts would save $150 to $200 in election costs, O'Hanlon explained.

The Election Board will pay the voting costs out of its appropriation. The amounts later will be charged back against the school district and deducted from its next tax settlement, but the money will not be returned to the Election Board's appropriation — it will go into the county general fund, O'Hanlon explained.

Republic Steel Corp. Steps Up Production

CLEVELAND (AP) — To meet increased demand for pig iron and wide stainless steel sheets, Republic Steel Corp. has stepped up production in Youngstown.

The company said Thursday another blast furnace will be put in production next week at its Youngstown plant because of a pickup in pig iron orders. About 150 employes will be recalled.

A spokesman said three of the five blast furnaces will be in operation in Youngstown for the first time since last April.

Republican also announced that, to its No. 2 stainless steel finishing plant in Massillon, a $360,000 automatic cutup line has been added. The push-button shearing equipment will enable republic to supply wider stainless steel sheets in heavy gauges.

The department said the company has been soliciting by mail the families of recent inductees into the armed forces. The company is not an authorized insurer in this state. Anyone solicited should contact the department or local law enforcement officials, the department said.

DeMolay Sees Patrol Movie

Forty-five attended a meeting of Harding Chapter, Order of DeMolay, Thursday night in the Masonic Temple when E. D. Wayne of the State Highway Patrol barracks in Lisbon screened a movie on highway safety, "Signal 30."

Dale Hoffman, master councilor, presided for business. A petition for membership was received, and another was voted on and the candidate elected for initiation Feb. 1.

A report was given on the Christmas "Buddy Night" dance by Roger Hicks, scribe, who also conducted roll call of officers and read minutes.

Officers of the chapter will leave the temple at 6:45 p. m. on Monday to attend the public installation of officers of Bethel 48, Job's Daughters, in Lisbon, and will escort the officers at the close of the ceremonies.

The Mothers' Club served lunch after the movie. Next meeting is Jan. 18 in the temple. The Mothers' Club will meet Wednesday at 1:30 p. m. in the temple.

The meeting also will mark the induction of seven new members of the board named at the annual election in December. They are: Robert E. Boyce, William B. Cooper, Dr. John A. Fraser, Atty. Francis H. Lang, Norman Nicely, Winston A. Porter and Glenn B. Roberts.

The Chamber's present officers are Alvin T. Babb, president; William D. Ogilvie, first vice president; Charles Taylor, second vice president; A. C. Purinton Jr., treasurer, and E. R. Chandler, secretary-manager.

The 1962 budget also will be presented for approval.

The general fund includes $15,500, he said.

Warm Spell Produces Mixed-Up Butterfly

Paul E. Miller, 416 Blakeley St., was amazed when he observed three butterflies flitting about his yard Thursday. Then he noticed the thermometer was near 50 degrees.

That probably accounted for the butterflies' decision to try their wings in January rather than wait for spring.

He managed to snare one in a jar for evidence of the freak of nature and the small insect was identified as a cabbage butterfly, with pale yellow wings and a violet "O" marking on each. Known as pieris rapae, it became a pest when brought over from Europe about 1860. As a caterpillar, it feeds on cabbage.

Educational Plan Eyed On Civil Defense

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio's superintendent of public instruction, E. E. Holt, says he will ask the state school board to approve a Civil Defense adult education program in Ohio.

Specifically, Holt said he would ask the board when it meets next Monday for authority to enter into a contract with the U. S. Commissioner of Education to carry out the program.

"In our opinion this instruction would provide a real opportunity to the citizens of our state," Holt said. "The course appears to be well planned to meet a very real need."

The program, sponsored by the U.S. Department of Defense and the U.S. Office of Education, provides a course of instruction for personal and family protection in case of disaster, both war and peacetime. The program was first tried out in Florida, Kentucky, Minnesota and Texas during the 1959-60 school year, and later extended to other states.

Fiery Objects In Sky Apparently Meteors

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The fiery display over Western Ohio skies Wednesday night apparently were meteors, the Air Force reports.

The Air Force said the earth moved through the "Quadrantios" —a belt of meteors—from Monday through Thursday with the maximum activity coming Wednesday.

Reports of the fiery aerial show came from all over Western Ohio. Some of the reports were that the balls of fire were seen for several seconds and left a white or bluish trail. The Air Force, however, explained that the larger meteorites will leave trails and some explosions are audible.

Adenauer Turns 86, New Name Suggested

BONN, Germany (AP) — West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer turned 86 today and one official suggested a new nickname for him.

Ever since Adenauer took over the leadership of West Germany in 1949 he has been known—affectionately by his friends and sarcastically by his foes—as der alte, the old man. Today, one of his officials quipped he should be renamed der ur-alte, the ancient one.

How Can I?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. What can I do when a glass stopper becomes stuck fast in a bottle?

A. In the first place, don't try to force it. Tap it gently with the stopper out of another bottle. If no other stopper is unstuck for the job, pour a few drops of glycerin around the top of the stuck stopper. It may take a few minutes, hours or days to soak through—depending upon how badly stuck the stopper is — but eventually it will enable you to withdraw the stopper with ease.

Q. How should woolen materials be pressed?

A. Press them on the wrong side. Use a damp cloth between the iron and material. The iron should be moderately hot, and should be applied until the cloth is quite dry.

Q. How can I prevent rubber overshoes from constantly slipping off at the heels?

A. Cut two strips of chamois and glue these inside the overshoes, up the backs of the heels.

Q. How can I easily remove the top of a fingernail polish bottle when it stubbornly refuses to budge?

A. Turn the bottle upside down and put a drop or two of fingernail polish remover around the edge of the cap. Let stand for a few seconds, turn the bottle right side up, and the cap will usually yield quite readily.

Q. How can I remove decalcomania transfers from painted surfaces without damaging the paint?

A. Try dousing the decals with hot vinegar, give the vinegar a few minutes to soak in, and then the decals can usually be removed or wiped off with no harm done.

Q. How can I keep the bright bands of metal on my kitchen sink and counters from staining my apron black?

A. By touching up these metal bands with some colorless lacquer, or with colorless fingernail polish.

Old Heroes Replace Movies' 'Star System'

ROME (AP) — Producer Charles H. Schneer says Hollywood is turning to the heroes of antiquity, religion, legend and literature for the big name appeal to replace the old movie "star system."

Schneer, who has produced movies about Sinbad and Gulliver, is here to make "Jason and the Golden Fleece," with Todd Armstrong playing Jason.

"One generation of actors may come and go," the producer says, "but the characters created in literature, legend and history will be a part of our lives as long as people read."

Mrs. Kennedy Again First Lady Of Fashion

NEW YORK (AP)— America's First Lady has again been elected the world's first lady of fashion and is joined on the 1961 best-dressed list by her sister and a Palm Beach neighbor.

Jacqueline Kennedy was a landslide winner in the annual poll conducted by the New York Couture Group, Inc., of some 2,000 fashion experts, writers and designers throughout the world.

The group's style committee said she brought "the Kennedy era of young elegance." She also headed the 1960 list.

The First Lady's sister, Princess Lee Radziwill, and Mrs. Charles Wrightsman, a friend and neighbor, were also among the 12 women on the official 1961 list.

The committee also announced election to the Fashion Hall of Fame, a permanent group selected from three-time winners on the annual poll, of Mrs. Norman K. Winston of Paris and New York and actress Audrey Hepburn.

Runnerup to Mrs. Kennedy on the 1961 list was Mrs. Loel Guinness of Paris and Palm Beach, a Mexican-born grandmother described by some fashion journalists as "the most elegant woman in the world."

The complete 1961 list:

Mrs. John F. Kennedy, wife of the President.

Mrs. Loel Guiness, wife of an international banker.

Princess Stanislas Radziwill, London.

Queen Sirikit of Thailand.

Mrs. David Bruce, wife of U.S. ambassador to Britain.

Princess Alexandra of Kent.

Mrs. Charles Wrightsman, New York and Palm Beach, wife of an oil millionaire.

Mrs. John Barry Ryan III, New York.

The committee said that the list after Mrs. Kennedy and Mrs. Guiness, denotes no particular vote ranking.

Miss Hepburn, who is Mrs. Mel Ferrer offstage, and Mrs. Winston now leave the annual list competition by virtue of their elevation to join 16 members of the Hall of Fame.

work it out. Yet, significantly,

Sales Tax Paid Deductible From Federal Returns

CLEVELAND (AP)—Ohio sales tax payments made during the year may be deducted from federal income tax returns at a rate based on gross income computed by the Internal Revenue Service.

IRS has issued a table of deductions ranging from $19 on gross income under $1,000 to $195 on income of $19,000 to $20,000.

Before last year taxpayers were allowed to deduct 1 per cent of their income with a maximum of $100 for payment of sales taxes on normal purchases.

Burton said sales taxes paid on such large purchases as cars, household appliances and fur coats were still deductible but could not be based on the table IRS issued.

Two Labor Leaders Hit Cost Of Surgery

CINCINNATI (AP) — Two Cincinnati labor leaders have complained about costs of surgery. Al Bilik, president, and George Jent, executive secretary of the City AFL-CIO Council, said in a letter Thursday to Hospital Care Corp., the Blue Cross Agency for Southwestern Ohio:

"It is our impression that many doctors view the fee schedule as a minimum upon which to build their charges to patients."

They suggested a plan of guaranteed payments for subscribers who earn under $7,500 yearly, or a full-payment plan in cooperation with certain doctors "who truly subscribe to the Hippocratic Oath."

23 Charges Are Dropped

LISBON — Twenty-three cases against 22 persons indicted — but never prosecuted have been canceled by Common Pleas Judge Joel H. Sharp at the request of Prosecutor G. William Brokaw.

They included a charge of subornation of perjury against Atty. William C. Lodge of Columbiana, who took his own life Nov. 21. He was indicted by the September Grand Jury. Other cases were:

Tidd and Howell were prosecuted on a federal charge and Secrest served a term from Stark County for a similar offense. The remainder were nonsupport cases, including, with year of indictment:

Law Changes County Court Judge Terms

Under a state law that takes effect with the 1962 elections, Columbiana County will name two of its county judges to four-year terms and pick the third for a two-year term, Frank R. O'Hanlon, clerk of the County Election Board, explained today.

Because of the change in the law, it will be necessary for county judge candidates to specify on their nominating petitions whether they are seeking a four - year or a two-year term, O'Hanlon pointed out.

The present judges are James L. MacDonald, whose court is at Lisbon; Herbert Arfman, holding court in East Palestine, and Luther Donbar, whose court is at Salem.

The filing deadline for the judicial seats is Aug. 8 at 4 p.m. The judges are elected on a nonpartisan judicial ballot, so they bypass the party primaries. The filing fee is $19.51, based on one half of one per cent of the annual salary of $3,901. The minimum signature requirement for a nominating petition is 384.

If all candidates for county judge seek four - year terms, the Election Board will be required to provide a space on the ballot for write-in election of a jurist for a two-year term, O'Hanlon explained.

The county judgeships were established throughout Ohio a few years ago by General Assembly action, eliminating the posts of justice of the peace.

It provides that no person except an incumbent can become a county judge next year unless he is a licensed attorney and has practiced law in Ohio for a year prior to his election. But an incumbent will be eligible to serve again whether or not he has a lawyer's degree, O'Hanlon pointed out.

Library Has Film On India Lasting For 56 Minutes

New films at the Carnegie Public Library available for borrowing include a 56-minute reel, "Assignment India," for those interested in the Orient, according to Miss Frances Jones, librarian.

"China Under Communism is a 22-minute visit with John Strohm, the first American correspondent in China. A fleeting visit for 14 minutes is "Thailand: Land of Rice." Teachers may also be glad to learn that a famous Asiatic personality, "Mahatma Ghandi," is represented in a 19-minute documentary. For romance of this region the patterns of ancient life on American Samoa are the subject of a 21-minute movie, "Polynesian Culture."

In the nature films there are two new prints, "Baby Animals," intended for the primary and intermediate grades, and "Secrets of the Plant World," a 15-minute time lapse photography stunt on the growing and the budding of flowers in color, an event for the entire family.

Science fans will also revel in "Man and the Moon," a realistic and believable trip in a rocket ship; "Mollusks: Snails, Mussels, Oysters, and Their Relatives," and "Properties of Liquids," showing experiments — such as how you can put your hand into water without getting it wet.

Seasonal and timely for the sports fans is "Snow Speed." This 10-minute short shows fun around Mt. Rainer on bob sleds, ice boats and the ski runs.

Scandal Figure Dies

WASHINGTON (AP) — O. William Blaier, 64, Carpenters Union vice president convicted in Indiana's 1956 highway scandals, died Thursday of a heart attack. Blaier was the second of three top union officials to die while awaiting determination of appeals of their convictions in 1960. Treasurer Frank M. Chapman died in 1960. President Maurice A. Hutcheson was the third official convicted.

King Louis XIV Had 413 Beds

Some Facts On Slumber

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Elephants are the loudest snorers in the animal world—and have the biggest nightmares.

What man in history was the most fastidious sleeper? Well, King Louis XIV of France had 413 beds in which to lay his weary head.

Charles Dickens always had the head of his bed pointed due north. He felt he couldn't sleep any other way.

Actress Sarah Bernhardt had a bed 15 feet wide.

Those are a few fascinating facts about slumber dug up by researchers for a new production of "The Four Poster," to be aired over the CBS-TV network Jan. 13.

For those interested in the lore and folklore of mankind's long quest for comfortable sleep—and who isn't?—here are some more tidbits to nod over:

Half the people in America say they have trouble going to sleep.

Married people have less insomnia than single people. The widowed and divorced have the most insomnia. College graduates sleep better than those with only a grammar school education.

The two worst enemies of sleep are a troubled conscience and pickled cucumbers.

The first bedsprings, made of leather thongs, were invented by the Greeks, who also originated the folding bed.

In biblical times, the common people slept on coarse cushions used as seats during the day, but Solomon had a bed made from aromatic cedar of Lebanon.

Cleopatra's bed was of ivory and gold. A gold god of love, a yard tall, stood on the footboard aiming a golden arrow at Egypt's queen.

Until the 15th century, even the nobility of Europe had no beds. Traveling barons lugged sacks of straw with them so they'd be sure of something to sleep on.

The first Queen Elizabeth of England slept almost in a sitting posture amid deep feather pillows atop a vast rosewood bed so high it required steps. Both Elizabeth and Catherine the Great of Russia liked to have their hair brushed until they dozed off.

August is the worst month for insomnia. If you want to stop a snorer, don't nudge him—just whistle gently. There are three men snorers for every woman snorer.

Wives read more often in bed than do husbands, take more sleeping pills, do more sleep walking, but talk less in their sleep—and women twist and turn in slumber 30 per cent less often than men. They are also less inclined to grind their teeth.

The Adelie penguin is only half as large as the four-foot-tall emperor. And it is much more lively, mischievous, playful and curious than the dignified emperor.

Firemen Called For Debris Fire

For almost the umpteenth time since demolition started, firemen were called to the site of the former Trinity United Presbyterian Church on E. 4th St. to quell a rubbish fire.

The department received the call at 8:18 p.m. Thursday and laid 200 feet of 2½-inch hose and spent about 45 minutes in extinguishing the flames.

The Christy Demolition Co. is clearing the site under a sub-contract with the Potters Construction Co., which has the general contract to erect a new drive-in facility for the First National Bank.

Firemen also quelled a fire in a 1957 sedan owned by L. W. Barnhouse in the 300 block on W. 9th St. at 7:59 p.m. yesterday.

They were called to the home of Mrs. Mary Furrer, 306 W. 5th St., at 7:46 a.m. today by an overheated furnace. Firemen said a faulty thermostat permitted the gas furnace to overheat.

Chester Man Hurt At Work

A Chester pottery employe, hurt at work Thursday, is in "good" condition today at City Hospital where two men injured in job mishaps and a child hurt in a fall on a baton were treated yesterday.

Ronnie Davis, 3, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Davis, 93½ Grant St., Newell, was treated for a puncture wound of the roof of the mouth suffered in a fall on a baton.

As 1962 Arrives

East End Postal Facility Still Lacks New Quarters

Patrons of the Station A Post Office probably should adopt the slogan, "New in '62" because of the many promises — still unfulfilled — to erect a new postal facility in the East End, Postmaster Samuel W. Brown and Theodore W. Burke, Station A superintendent, commented today in reporting yearly receipts of the East End office.

Brown said "temporary" quarters on Mulberry St. have hurt the postal business in the East End because of a lack of parking facilities.

"When the office was located on Pennsylvania Ave., people could stop en route to pottery or mill work. As soon as we moved, however, they no longer saw the office so did not stop. Even if they had wanted to stop, they couldn't — the parking facilities are nil," Brown declared.

The Post Office Department has made surveys and knows what it wants, but so far has not obtained a suitable site.

Brown urged something should be done "soon because of numerous complaints he has received. "I believe the East End patrons should have a new facility. The sooner the better."

In his yearly report, Burke said office receipts totaled $19,066 compared to $21,656 in 1960, a drop of $2,590.

The receipts do not include the $3,280 collected as fees on the 13,417 money orders sold at Station A nor does it include the $250,000 which represents the total of the money orders, Burke said. The fees and amounts are not credited to any office in the overall business receipts.

Burke expressed disappointment the new facility has not even been started despite many new offices that have been erected in the Tri-State area.

City Crew Completes Repair On Water Line

A city water department crew completed repairs about 3 p. m. Thursday on a broken line along the River Rd., allowing restoration of service for 20 homes.

Supt. Donald T. Duke said the break was found in an old four-inch "fire line," which formerly served a long-abandoned River Rd. pottery plant. Many of the old "fire lines" still are in place and "live" along that stretch, he explained. The break was closed with a repair clamp.

A 10-foot excavation was made to uncover the break. The River Rd. homes were without service after the repair work started yesterday morning. The break was in a line alongside the highway near the American Oil Co. bulk plant.

Search Continued For 3 Young Inmates

ELYRIA, Ohio (AP)—A search continued today for three young inmates who walked away from the nearby Grafton State Prison Farm Thursday night. Police said they were not considered dangerous.

Board To Let Contract For Vote Supplies

The County Election Board will meet this afternoon at its W. 6th St. office to award contracts for ballots and poll books for a special election Tuesday, Feb. 13, in the Southern Local School District on a question whether part of the district's area should be permitted to withdraw and unite with Carroll County school administrative areas.

Frank R. O'Hanlon, clerk of the board, said sealed bids on ballots have been received from the Wellsville Press, the Wilson Printing House of Market St. and the Dodge Publishing Co. of Salem.

Offers on poll books have been submitted by the Columbus Blank Book Co. and the Herr Printing Co., both of Columbus, and the Johnson-Watson Printing Co. of Dayton.

O'Hanlon said he expects to recommend that the board follow the so-called "economy" plan permitted by state law in special elections. The law permits the board to staff the precincts with four judges and clerks — rather than the usual six — and pay them $12 instead of $16 for the day's work.

The district has 13 precincts, including Brush Creek of Jefferson County, but O'Hanlon said the board may assign the voters in two precincts to cast their ballots at adjoining polling places as another economy move.

Affected would be the East Precinct of Yellow Creek Township, where no Southern Local votes were cast in the November general election, and the South Precinct of Center Township, in which only two school district ballots were cast in November.

If the plan is followed, the voters in the East Precinct of Yellow Creek will be assigned to the Glasgow Precinct of Madison Township, which votes at the Yellow Creek Grange Hall, and the voters in South of Center Township will be assigned to the Wayne Township Precinct, located in the Wayne Township House on Route 164 at Gavers.

Eliminating the two precincts would save $150 to $200 in election costs, O'Hanlon explained.

The Election Board will pay the voting costs out of its appropriation. The amounts later will be charged back against the school district and deducted from its next tax settlement, but the money will not be returned to the Election Board's appropriation — it will go into the county general fund, O'Hanlon explained.

Republic Steel Corp. Steps Up Production

CLEVELAND (AP) — To meet increased demand for pig iron and wide stainless steel sheets, Republic Steel Corp. has stepped up production in Youngstown.

The company said Thursday another blast furnace will be put in production next week at its Youngstown plant because of a pickup in pig iron orders. About 150 employes will be recalled.

A spokesman said three of the five blast furnaces will be in operation in Youngstown for the first time since last April.

Republican also announced that, to its No. 2 stainless steel finishing plant in Massillon, a $360,000 automatic cutup line has been added. The push-button shearing equipment will enable republic to supply wider stainless steel sheets in heavy gauges.

Complaints Received About Insurance Firm

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Inquiries and complaints have been received concerning activities of the Continental Fidelity Life Insurance Co. of Phoenix, Ariz., the Ohio Department of Insurance reports.

The department said the company has been soliciting by mail the families of recent inductees into the armed forces. The company is not an authorized insurer in this state. Anyone solicited should contact the department or local law enforcement officials, the department said.

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: We women should stick together and help each other as much as possible. Please print this letter for the benefit of all wives — everywhere.

If you suspect your husband is cheating, keep track of his handkerchiefs. For almost a year I wondered what was happening to my husband's white linen hankies. I'd buy a dozen at a time and in two months he'd be down to three.

He kept insisting he was losing them. Last week I found four under the seat of our car — lipstick on every one of them. When I presented him with the evidence, he admitted he had been a little foolish and promised to behave himself. I honestly believe he will, too, Ann.

Handkerchief - watching could serve as the mouse trap, girls. I recommend it — THE COUNTESS.

Dear Count-ess: Sometimes when you build a better mousetrap nature breeds a smarter mouse. Catching a husband rarely makes him better. It only makes him more careful.

I suggest a visit to a marriage counselor — together. Find out why somebody else's lipstick is more desirable than the home brand.

Too Late For Tears

Dear Ann Landers: Nine years ago I bought a lovely fur coat from a friend who inherited it from an aunt. This friend couldn't wear it because it was too small. I paid for the coat out of money I earned working.

The coat was too short for me but I intended to have a cape or a stole made from it. Then I became pregnant and decided to put the coat aside for awhile.

My husband asked me if I'd let his mother borrow the coat temporarily so long as I couldn't wear it. I agreed.

A few days ago my mother-in-law came over wearing the stole she had made out of my fur coat. My husband was not home at the time and I said nothing except "it looks lovely."

Believe me, I was heartsick. When I told my husband he said there was nothing he could do about it now. Any suggestions?—H.S.

Dear H.S.: Yes. Forget it. Your big mistake was "lending" it to your mother-in-law. Apparently there was a misunderstanding.

Look at it this way: You bought the coat nine years ago and it was third - hand then. After you agreed to let your mother-in-law wear it awhile it would have been fifth-hand to you. It seems to me you expected too much from one piece of fur.

Altar-Bound

Dear Ann: I'm a working girl, 20, in love with a fellow 23. We plan to be married within a couple of years.

The problem is I have strong feelings about my religion. He came from a broken home and has had no religious training. He never had been inside a church, except for weddings and funerals, until he met me. He says he is not anti-religious, he just doesn't care about it one way or the other.

For the last year he's been attending church with me every Sunday but he says he'll probably never join.

What shall I do?—GRETA.

Dear Greta: You're in a better spot than if he had religious ties elsewhere, so cheer up. Keep him worshiping at your side and chances are that when marriage is imminent, he'll join.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

OAS Removes Sanctions

Quick Action Triggered For Aid To Dominican

WASHINGTON (AP) — Removal of diplomatic and economic sanctions against the Dominican Republic has triggered quick action to relieve the Caribbean Island's ailing economy.

A vote by the council of the Organization of American States Wednesday to remove sanctions cleared the way for an immediate increase in the amount of sugar which the United States buys—at high prices—from the Dominican Republic.

The vote was 20-0 with Cuba abstaining on grounds that removal of sanctions was a U.S. plot to establish a puppet Dominican regime. The OAS decision set off a series of moves by the United States and Latin-American nations to resume normal diplomatic and economic relations with the island republic.

President Joaquin Balaguer said the OAS action will lead to "opening the doors to great possibilities on the economic front."

Balaguer, head of a compromise council of government established last Monday, reaffirmed he will step down as head of government before the end of next month. He had vowed to quit if the sanctions were removed.

The sanctions were voted in 1960 after an inter-American foreign ministers meeting in Costa Rica. The late Dominican dictator, Rafael L. Trujillo, was implicated in a plot to kill Venezuelan President Romulo Betancourt.

Balaguer reported Wednesday that some 600,000 to 700,000 persons, more than half the working population, are unemployed.

Jose A. Mora, secretary-general of the OAS, was due in Santo Domingo today to discuss technical assistance the OAS can offer for economic and social planning.

And, State Department officials said, the OAS action means an automatic increase of 105,000 tons in the Dominican Republic's sugar quota for January-June, 1962. They said this plus an increase of 316,000 tons announced recently will pump an extra $26.5 million into the island's economy in the next six months.

The United States pays 5.5 cents a pound for sugar, about 3.25 cents a pound above the world market. The two increases in the Dominican quota—which had been running at only 43,000 tons—come from the amount which the United States used to buy from Cuba.

Common Pleas Court Personnel Is Rehired

LISBON — Common Pleas Court Judges Joel H. Sharp and Raymond S. Buzzard rehired their entire personnel Thursday for 1962.

All employed by the court for over 11 years, they are:

Norman E. Ward of Lisbon, assignment commissioner, court constable and bailiff; Richard V. Rose of Lisbon, adult probation officer; Winifred A. Byers of Salem, official court reporter, and Lillian G. Rogers of near West Point, assistant shorthand reporter.

Apparently their salaries will remain the same despite a 15 per cent cut in the budget, as ordered by county commissioners. Excess jurors funds apparently will allow the same pay schedule.

2 Killed As Auto Rams Into Train; 25 Cars Derailed

VAN WERT, Ohio (AP) — Two men were killed and three others injured when their car slammed into the side of a freight train near here Thursday night. The impact derailed 25 cars of the 67-car Erie-Lackawanna train.

Killed were Alfred Grote, 62, and his won, Wilmer, 32, both of Decatur, Ind. The injured were taken to Adams County Hospital in Decatur.

None of the train crew was hurt.

Sheriff's deputies said the accident occurred in a heavy fog. The car apparently became entangled in the train's wheels and sent the cars piling up, as one witness said, "like cord wood."

The accident, at the rural crossing just east of Wren, blocked a large section of the main line of the Erie-Lackawanna tracks between the East Coast and Chicago. There was no indication how long rail traffic will be tied up.

The derailment was the second in this area for the railroad in less than a month. Twenty-seven cars left the tracks and three men were hurt near Harrod in Allen County Dec. 16.

How Can I?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. What can I do when a glass stopper becomes stuck fast in a bottle?

A. In the first place, don't try to force it. Tap it gently with the stopper out of another bottle. If no other stopper is unstuck for the job, pour a few drops of glycerin around the top of the stuck stopper. It may take a few minutes, hours or days to soak through—depending upon how badly stuck the stopper is — but eventually it will enable you to withdraw the stopper with ease.

Q. How should woolen materials be pressed?

A. Press them on the wrong side. Use a damp cloth between the iron and material. The iron should be moderately hot, and should be applied until the cloth is quite dry.

Q. How can I prevent rubber overshoes from constantly slipping off at the heels?

A. Cut two strips of chamois and glue these inside the overshoes, up the backs of the heels.

Q. How can I easily remove the top of a fingernail polish bottle when it stubbornly refuses to budge?

A. Turn the bottle upside down and put a drop or two of fingernail polish remover around the edge of the cap. Let stand for a few seconds, turn the bottle right side up, and the cap will usually yield quite readily.

Q. How can I remove decalcomania transfers from painted surfaces without damaging the paint?

A. Try dousing the decals with hot vinegar, give the vinegar a few minutes to soak in, and then the decals can usually be removed or wiped off with no harm done.

Q. How can I keep the bright bands of metal on my kitchen sink and counters from staining my apron black?

A. By touching up these metal bands with some colorless lacquer, or with colorless fingernail polish.

Old Heroes Replace Movies' 'Star System'

ROME (AP) — Producer Charles H. Schneer says Hollywood is turning to the heroes of antiquity, religion, legend and literature for the big name appeal to replace the old movie "star system."

Schneer, who has produced movies about Sinbad and Gulliver, is here to make "Jason and the Golden Fleece," with Todd Armstrong playing Jason.

"One generation of actors may come and go," the producer says, "but the characters created in literature, legend and history will be a part of our lives as long as people read."

Steel Output Seen Rising 15% In 1962

WASHINGTON (AP) — Steel output in 1962 should reach 107 million tons, about 10 per cent more than in 1961, "if no strikes occur when contracts expire June 30," the Commerce Department reported Thursday.

All three of Steel's best customers — the auto, construction and container industries — are expected to enjoy substantial expansion in the year ahead, the department said.

The 1962 production, however, is expected to run about 10 per cent behind the industry's best year, 1955, when 117 million tons of steel were produced.

Prices are favorable to strong demand, the department said. Competition within the industry produced price cuts for a number of steel products last spring, and the average wholesale price for finished steel still stands at the lowest point since August, 1958.

The outlook for steel exports is not bright, the department's New Year's summary said. Imports in 1961 apparently exceeded exports by about 1.1 million tons, and the year was the third in a row in which this country has imported more steel than it has shipped abroad.

The department also said:

The industry's outlays on new plant and equipment will continue to be large with emphasis on improving steel products to help compete with plastics and aluminum; more efficient processing of raw materials to reduce costs, and modernization of existing plant facilities.

Shipments of finished steel mill products are expected to total 77 million tons this year, compared with an estimated 67 million tons in 1961. Output will be the heaviest in the first half of this year, the department said.

Bringing Up A Family

By GARRY C. MEYERS

Youths Shouldn't Be Forced To Tattle

In the courts dealing with adults it's not unusual to call upon an innocent witness of a crime to testify about it. In this way the offender against society often is found guilty. This procedure may seem especially desirable where treason is involved. But in dealing with misdemeanors and the like among children in school, the problem is very different. While forced testimony of innocent informers may lead to detection of the offenders, some serious consequences may follow. A mother writes from Minnesota:

"LAST YEAR IN the senior high school class a drinking party was held. The school officials tried to get to the bottom of it. They called in a few of the innocent ones to inform on the ones who started it all.

"This brought about much hard feelings between the classmates to the point that they ganged up and gave the ones who informed the silent treatment. It even got so bad that parents who had been friends became enemies.

"This bothered me, even though my children weren't involved, but I felt that some day I, too, might be faced with such a problem. I would like to know what to tell my children if they should be confronted with it.

"The other day my 12-year-old daughter was called to the principal's office with three others and told to inform on who the troublemakers were on the school bus they all ride.

"I like to bring up my children to be honest and to respect authority, but somehow this kind of thing is a little distasteful."

I SHARE THIS mother's concern.

Despicable as was that drinking party in high school, requiring the innocent students to inform on the students responsible for this party can hardly be defended. Nor can the pressure for forced informing in the other incident cited be defended.

Often still, even in the grades, when children refuse to "tell", the whole class may be punished for the offence of the suspected one or two.

As I wrote this mother, I would tell my children that if, at school, they are asked to inform on other children when some are suspected of a misdemeanor, they should say, "I wish you would not ask me to do so. I don't believe it would be right."

Any plan which encourages tattling at home or school is, in my judgment, indefensible.

Men Save Boy Who Swallowed Tongue

CLEVELAND (AP)—Two Cleveland Electric Illuminating Co. employes were working Thursday near the home of 3-year-old Roberto Sanchez, when they heard the boy's mother screaming.

The workers, John Darus, 32, and Ralph Rokowski, 28, rushed into the house and found the youngster was unconscious and had swallowed his tongue.

Darus pulled the tongue back in place with his fingers and then used mouth-to-mouth resuscitation to get the boy breathing again.

Roberto regained consciousness in about three minutes.

Court Income Gains $1,725

A big gain in receipts from criminal cases pushed Municipal Court's income to $4,314 in December, up $1,725 from the $2,589 shown in November, Clerk Wilbur J. Harmon said today in his monthly report.

The court turned over $4,171 to the city treasury out of December revenue, an increase of $1,864 from the $2,307 given the city in November.

The sharp increase in receipts from criminal cases accounted for the gain. Criminal cases produced $3,577 in December, a gain of $2,058 from the $1,519 shown in November.

In addition to criminal receipts, the amount paid the city included $549 in costs from civil cases and $45 in penalties from State Highway Patrol cases.

The court also paid: $45 to the state treasury, also from patrol cases, and $97.50 to the Law Library Association.

The total amount handled by the court was $10,652 in December, off just $47 from the $10,699 shown in November. The amount handled last month included $5,867 in the civil branch and $4,795 in in the criminal branch.

23 Charges Are Dropped

LISBON — Twenty-three cases against 22 persons indicted — but never prosecuted have been canceled by Common Pleas Judge Joel H. Sharp at the request of Prosecutor G. William Brokaw.

They included a charge of subornation of perjury against Atty. William C. Lodge of Columbiana, who took his own life Nov. 21. He was indicted by the September Grand Jury. Other cases were:

Tidd and Howell were prosecuted on a federal charge and Secrest served a term from Stark County for a similar offense. The remainder were non-support cases, including, with year of indictment:

Grant Garro, 1955; William B. Gardner, 1953; Richard Hall, 1952; Francis McGee, two, 1951 and 1952; Howard Blaine Booth, 1952; Roland W. Hoffaker, 1956; James Richard Ramsey, 1951; Goffney L. Hale, 1952; Paul Ford, 1952; William Brosko Jernigan, 1950; Robert F. Calhoun; Otis Glenn Moore, 1955; Charles E. Shallenberg, 1955, and William A. Pierce, 1955.

Law Changes County Court Judge Terms

Under a state law that takes effect with the 1962 elections, Columbiana County will name two of its county judges to four-year terms and pick the third for a two-year term, Frank R. O'Hanlon, clerk of the County Election Board, explained today.

Because of the change in the law, it will be necessary for county judge candidates to specify on their nominating petitions whether they are seeking a four - year or a two-year term, O'Hanlon pointed out.

The present judges are James L. MacDonald, whose court is at Lisbon; Herbert Arfman, holding court in East Palestine, and Luther Donbar, whose court is at Salem.

The filing deadline for the judicial seats is Aug. 8 at 4 p.m. The judges are elected on a non-partisan judicial ballot, so they bypass the party primaries. The filing fee is $19.51, based on one half of one per cent of the annual salary of $3,901. The minimum signature requirement for a nominating petition is 384.

If all candidates for county judge seek four - year terms, the Election Board will be required to provide a space on the ballot for write-in election of a jurist for a two-year term, O'Hanlon explained.

The county judgeships were established throughout Ohio a few years ago by General Assembly action, eliminating the posts of justice of the peace.

It provides that no person except an incumbent can become a county judge next year unless he is a licensed attorney and has practiced law in Ohio for a year prior to his election. But an incumbent will be eligible to serve again whether or not he has a lawyer's degree, O'Hanlon pointed out.

King Louis XIV Had 413 Beds

Some Facts On Slumber

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Elephants are the loudest snorers in the animal world—and have the biggest nightmares.

What man in history was the most fastidious sleeper? Well, King Louis XIV of France had 413 beds in which to lay his weary head.

Charles Dickens always had the head of his bed pointed due north. He felt he couldn't sleep any other way.

Actress Sarah Bernhardt had a bed 15 feet wide.

Those are a few fascinating facts about slumber dug up by researchers for a new production of "The Four Poster," to be aired over the CBS-TV network Jan. 13.

For those interested in the lore and folklore of mankind's long quest for comfortable sleep—and who isn't?—here are some more tidbits to nod over:

Half the people in America say they have trouble going to sleep.

Married people have less insomnia than single people. The widowed and divorced have the most insomnia. College graduates sleep better than those with only a grammar school education.

The two worst enemies of sleep are a troubled conscience and pickled cucumbers.

The first bedsprings, made of leather thongs, were invented by the Greeks, who also originated the folding bed.

In biblical times, the common people slept on coarse cushions used as seats during the day, but Solomon had a bed made from aromatic cedar of Lebanon.

Cleopatra's bed was of ivory and gold. A gold god of love, a yard tall, stood on the footboard aiming a golden arrow at Egypt's queen.

Until the 15th century, even the nobility of Europe had no beds. Traveling barons lugged sacks of straw with them so they'd be sure of something to sleep on.

The first Queen Elizabeth of England slept almost in a sitting posture amid deep feather pillows atop a vast rosewood bed so high it required steps. Both Elizabeth and Catherine the Great of Russia liked to have their hair brushed until they dozed off.

August is the worst month for insomnia. If you want to stop a snorer, don't nudge him—just whistle gently. There are three men snorers for every woman snorer.

Wives read more often in bed than do husbands, take more sleeping pills, do more sleep walking, but talk less in their sleep—and women twist and turn in slumber 30 per cent less often than men. They are also less inclined to grind their teeth.

Firemen Called For Debris Fire

For almost the umpteenth time since demolition started, firemen were called to the site of the former Trinity United Presbyterian Church on E. 4th St. to quell a rubbish fire.

The department received the call at 8:18 p.m. Thursday and laid 200 feet of 2½-inch hose and spent about 45 minutes in extinguishing the flames.

The Christy Demolition Co. is clearing the site under a sub-contract with the Potters Construction Co., which has the general contract to erect a new drive-in facility for the First National Bank.

Firemen also quelled a fire in a 1957 sedan owned by L. W. Barnhouse in the 300 block on W. 9th St. at 7:59 p.m. yesterday.

They were called to the home of Mrs. Mary Furrer, 306 W. 5th St., at 7:46 a.m. today by an overheated furnace. Firemen said a faulty thermostat permitted the gas furnace to overheat.

Dietzel Will Face Board At LSU Today

The Review Sports
JANUARY 5, 1962 PAGE 16

The Sports Bench

By BOB DUFFY
Sports Editor

Mason, Dietzel Good Pals . . .

Tony Mason, who led Niles High to an Ohio football championship this past season, is a close friend of Paul Dietzel and it is Tony's opinion that "unless LSU comes up with a fabulous offer Paul will take the Army job".

Mason has known Dietzel for the past eight years and the two have become close friends. Tony spends a few weeks each year around the LSU campus.

"Paul didn't mention much about the Army post last week because he was worried about Colorado. Last Sunday eight members of the LSU Board of Directors flew to Miami and talked to Dietzel in an effort to keep him at LSU," Mason said.

Receives $40,000 At LSU . . .

At LSU, Mason informed us that Dietzel received $18,500 coaching salary, but with TV and radio shows, a car, and other extras, his earnings came to about $40,000 a year.

Army would pay Dietzel $20,000 a year and reportedly would give him a 5-year contract. At Army, the head coach is also given a house free.

"If Dietzel does accept the offer from Army, he will attempt to take all four assistants with him, but probably will end up taking only three.

As far as a successor for Dietzel, in case he leaves LSU, Mason heard that Frank Broyles, head coach of Arkansas which lost to Alabama, 10-3 in the Sugar Bowl, is first in line.

MASON himself indicated he might be lured into the college ranks if the right offer comes along. He can't go much farther in high school football.

At present he is flirting with several offers as an assistant at a major college.

Hoppel's Record Amazing . . .

JACK O'ROURKE, who has had a successful reign at Beaver Local with his football and wrestling teams, sat down the other day and added up the over-all record of his star wrestler, Carl Hoppel.

When he arrived at a total, Jack commented, "Boy if I only had a record like this in football." It would be an amazing one to be sure. Hoppel, who is now in his fourth year of competition, shows an incredible mark of 77 victories against only two defeats.

Carl added one more last night when he won at Martins Ferry.

This record must go down as one of the most outstanding for a high school wrestler anywhere.

Carl may lose sometime this season, because Beaver Local has scheduled some strong teams, especially in Pennsylvania, but he got past one big test last Tuesday night at Waynesburg by blanking his opponent, 3-0. It seems Hoppel gets better as the competition gets stiffer.

Coming from a great wrestling family, Hoppel was a hit his first year as a high school wrestler. Losing only one match that season, he became the first freshman ever to win a state wrestling title.

He was only 15 then and brought home the 120-pound title. During his first season, he had a 23-1 record. The only match Hoppel lost came in the district finals, a 6-3 decision to Frank Cunningham on Bridgeport. Both wrestlers qualified for the state and a week after his only defeat, Hoppel met Cunningham for the state 120-pound title and not only won, but pinned him in 5:37.

Out of the finals his sophomore season, Carl came roaring back to win 23 straight matches the following year and cop another state crown, this time at 133.

At present he is working on a string of 33 straight victories and is looking for a third state championship.

If he gains his third title, he will not only be a champion in Ohio but within his own family. His brother Darryl already has won two state titles, so Carl will have to go one better to rate the top trophy shelf in the Hoppel homestead.

Allen Joins Marines . . .

BERNIE ALLEN'S professional baseball career will be interrupted this season. Allen, who was to be drafted into the Army next Tuesday enlisted in the Marine Corps Reserve 6-month reserve program Thursday.

He will report to Parris Island on Feb. 25 for six months of active duty and will be discharged sometime late in August.

This will knock him out of a year of baseball. He has already contacted the Minnesota Twins. Allen was scheduled to go to spring training with the Twins this year.

Following his discharge from the Marines, Allen will probably play in the Winter Instructional League in November.

This 'N That In Sports . . .

KENNY Miller, the ex-Potter, fired in 16 points for the Toledo freshmen Wednesday night at Akron, but it came in a losing cause to the Akron jayvees.

EAST Liverpool's Bob Dawson, captain of the 10th-ranked Bowling Green Falcons, scored 10 points in his team's near loss to Western Michigan Wednesday.

The Bowling Green five, with Dawson aiding with his clever ball handling and assists, surprised everyone by winning the All-College tournament at Oklahoma City last week.

Victories were over Seattle, Wichita and Houston. Wichita by the way is the same team which knocked off the defending NCAA champs, Cincinnati. This performance shoved the Falcons up into the nation's top 10.

Permission Sought For Army Post

By ED TUNSTALL

BATON ROUGE, La. (AP) — Football Coach Paul Dietzel goes before the Louisiana State University board of supervisors today to ask permission to take the coaching job at West Point.

The military academy and LSU are involved in a catch-as-catch can over the services of the 38-year-old Dietzel.

As the board gathered to consider the Dietzel matter, the word in the Bayou country was that Dietzel was all but delivered to the banks of the Hudson.

Asking permission to take the Army job is an oversimplification. Dietzel still has four years remaining on a contract that calls for $18,500 per year and he needs a release before he can journey northward.

Board member Tom Dutton said earlier this week he would ask the board to take legal action to prevent Dietzel from leaving.

But Dietzel may have given an indication of his decision on a 15-minute television sports show in Baton Rouge Thursday night.

Though he parried all direct questions, he commented that "It's been a wonderful seven years" since he took over as head coach. And, he added, "My stay at LSU has been wonderful."

East Jr. Five Chalks Up 4th

East Junior High spurted in the second quarter to seize a commanding lead and went on to turn back East Palestine's frosh, 49-28, Thursday on the winners' court.

Behind 8-5 at the first quarter mark, East fired in 19 points in the second period to snare the lead which it maintained the rest of the way.

Coach Dom Cascio pulled his starters with three minutes left in the opening quarter. When they returned to action in the second, the East five hit consistently to pull away for the win.

Bob Lane, who sparked East's second period rally, led all scorers with 11 points, while Frank Taylor and Bob Maltarich each hopped eight. Walker's 10 led the losers.

With a 4-1 record now, East will return to action Thursday at 4:15 p.m. at the new Community Arena in Steubenville, opposing the Central Catholic freshmen.

Senior Boal Coaches Pick Starting Lineups

MOBILE, Ala. (AP) — Senior Bowl coaches named starting lineups and the players elected captains Thursday for Saturday's clash of North and South in Mobile.

Potters Visit Youngstown For South Tilt Saturday

East Liverpool's improved Potters, flashing a good performance against rival Wellsville, will visit Youngstown Saturday for a battle with the South High Warriors at South Fieldhouse.

The Potter and South reserves will open action at 7:30, with the varsity contest scheduled to get underway about 8:45.

East Liverpool will be facing a South team which has a 3-1 record. The only blemish was a 56-47 loss to Sharon, one of the strongest teams in Western Pennsylvania.

Before bowing to Sharon, South had won three straight. The Warriors meet Youngstown Rayen tonight in a city series contest.

The main reason for South's respectable record is the fact that four regulars are back from last season, including the two top scorers.

John Tensley, 6-foot, and Ernie McElroy were the one-two punch for the Warriors last season. They are joined by two other veterans, Jimmy Jones, 5-foot-10, and Roy White, 6-foot.

Either Bob McFadden, 6-foot-2, or Ron Johnson, 6-foot, will be the other starter.

Key performances were turned in by Dave Harriel, who sank 21 points, and Jack Deshler, whose booming jump shot accounted for 18.

Football Rulesmakers Will Emphasize Safety

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (AP)—Football rulesmakers, concerned over a one-year jump in high school football fatalities, will act today on several recommended rule changes, with the emphasis on safety.

Proposed changes will go before 48 voting delegates at the National Alliance Football Committee convention. Because of the increase in deaths one radical change has an outside chance of adoption.

This is the rule that now allows blocking with one arm held horizontally away from the shoulder. While the hand must be on the chest—the elbow is up and has become a dangerous weapon in the view of some officials. This rule was adopted to aid the fast-striking T-formation. It may be changed to require the arms be kept against the sides.

The alliance represents 14,000 football-playing high schools and 400 small colleges and junior colleges in 49 states. It includes the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics, the National Junior College Athletic Association and the National Federation of High Schools.

Clifford B. Fagan, executive secretary of the alliance, said there was strong feeling among some rulemakers for a rule to eliminate the return of kicks, but it was doubtful this change would be adopted.

He said a recommendation for soft padding on rib, shoulder and hip pads—starting with some future season—likely will be adopted. Another likely change is a proposal to modify requirements for tooth and mouth protectors, allowing the use of additional types.

OSU Students Against Taking Rose Bowl Money

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio State University's student governing body has urged the university's Faculty Council not to accept a share of the proceeds from Monday's Rose Bowl football game.

The council accepted the one-twelfth share last year and has indicated it will do the same this year. However, it refused to permit Ohio State's Big Ten champion Buckeyes to play in the New Year's Day classic.

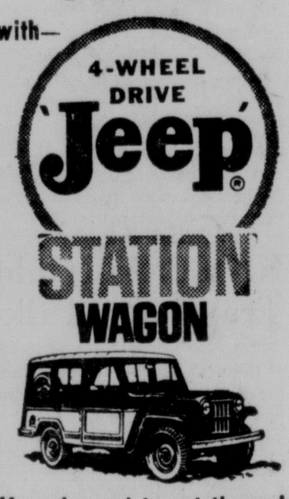

The motion passed in the Student Senate Thursday night said the acceptance of the money is "inconsistent and unethical in view of the general policy of nonparticipation reaffirmed by the Faculty Council decision of Nov. 28."

The decision was the rejection of the Rose Bowl bid.

The share would amount to about $25,000.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: We women should stick together and help each other as much as possible. Please print this letter for the benefit of all wives — everywhere.

If you suspect your husband is cheating, keep track of his handkerchiefs. For almost a year I wondered what was happening to my husband's white linen hankies. I'd buy a dozen at a time and in two months he'd be down to three.

He kept insisting he was losing them. Last week I found four under the seat of our car — lipstick on every one of them. When I presented him with the evidence, he admitted he had been a little foolish and promised to behave himself. I honestly believe he will, too, Ann.

Handkerchief - watching could serve as the mouse trap, girls. I recommend it — THE COUNTESS.

Dear Count-ess: Sometimes when you build a better mousetrap nature breeds a smarter mouse. Catching a husband rarely makes him better. It only makes him more careful.

I suggest a visit to a marriage counselor — together. Find out why somebody else's lipstick is more desirable than the home brand.

Too Late For Tears

Dear Ann Landers: Nine years ago I bought a lovely fur coat from a friend who inherited it from an aunt. This friend couldn't wear it because it was too small. I paid for the coat out of money I earned working.

The coat was too short for me but I intended to have a cape or a stole made from it. Then I became pregnant and decided to put the coat aside for awhile.

My husband asked me if I'd let his mother borrow the coat temporarily so long as I couldn't wear it. I agreed.

A few days ago my mother-in-law came over wearing the stole she had made out of my fur coat. My husband was not home at the time and I said nothing except "it looks lovely."

Believe me, I was heartsick. When I told my husband he said there was nothing he could do about it now. Any suggestions?—H.S.

Dear H.S.: Yes. Forget it. Your big mistake was "lending" it to your mother-in-law. Apparently there was a misunderstanding.

Look at it this way: You bought the coat nine years ago and it was third - hand then. After you agreed to let your mother-in-law wear it awhile it would have been fifth-hand to you. It seems to me you expected too much from one piece of fur.

Altar-Bound

Dear Ann: I'm a working girl, 20, in love with a fellow 23. We plan to be married within a couple of years.

The problem is I have strong feelings about my religion. He came from a broken home and has had no religious training. He never had been inside a church, except for weddings and funerals, until he met me. He says he is not anti-religious, he just doesn't care about it one way or the other.

For the last year he's been attending church with me every Sunday but he says he'll probably never join.

What shall I do?—GRETA.

Dear Greta: You're in a better spot than if he had religious ties elsewhere, so cheer up. Keep him worshiping at your side and chances are that when marriage is imminent, he'll join.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

OAS Removes Sanctions

Quick Action Triggered For Aid To Dominican

WASHINGTON (AP) — Removal of diplomatic and economic sanctions against the Dominican Republic has triggered quick action to relieve the Caribbean Island's ailing economy.

A vote by the council of the Organization of American States Wednesday to remove sanctions cleared the way for an immediate increase in the amount of sugar which the United States buys—at high prices—from the Dominican Republic.

The vote was 20-0 with Cuba abstaining on grounds that removal of sanctions was a U.S. plot to establish a puppet Dominican regime. The OAS decision set off a series of moves by the United States and Latin-American nations to resume normal diplomatic and economic relations with the island republic.

President Joaquin Balaguer said the OAS action will lead to "opening the doors to great possibilities on the economic front."

Balaguer, head of a compromise council of government established last Monday, reaffirmed he will step down as head of government before the end of next month. He had vowed to quit if the sanctions were removed.

The sanctions were voted in 1960 after an inter-American foreign ministers meeting in Costa Rica. The late Dominican dictator, Rafael L. Trujillo, was implicated in a plot to kill Venezuelan President Romulo Betancourt.

Balaguer reported Wednesday that some 600,000 to 700,000 persons, more than half the working population, are unemployed.

Jose A. Mora, secretary-general of the OAS, was due in Santo Domingo today to discuss technical assistance the OAS can offer for economic and social planning.

And, State Department officials said, the OAS action means an automatic increase of 105,000 tons in the Dominican Republic's sugar quota for January-June, 1962. They said this plus an increase of 316,000 tons announced recently will pump an extra $26.5 million into the island's economy in the next six months.

The United States pays 5.5 cents a pound for sugar, about 3.25 cents a pound above the world market. The two increases in the Dominican quota—which had been running at only 43,000 tons—come from the amount which the United States used to buy from Cuba.

Common Pleas Court Personnel Is Rehired

LISBON — Common Pleas Court Judges Joel H. Sharp and Raymond S. Buzzard rehired their entire personnel Thursday for 1962.

All employed by the court for over 11 years, they are:

Norman E. Ward of Lisbon, assignment commissioner, court constable and bailiff; Richard V. Rose of Lisbon, adult probation officer; Winifred A. Byers of Salem, official court reporter, and Lillian G. Rogers of near West Point, assistant shorthand reporter.

Apparently their salaries will remain the same despite a 15 per cent cut in the budget, as ordered by county commissioners. Excess jurors funds apparently will allow the same pay schedule.

Benefactoress Claimed

2 Killed As Auto Rams Into Train; 25 Cars Derailed

VAN WERT, Ohio (AP) — Two men were killed and three others injured when their car slammed into the side of a freight train near here Thursday night. The impact derailed 25 cars of the 67-car Erie-Lackawanna train.

Killed were Alfred Grote, 62, and his won, Wilmer, 32, both of Decatur, Ind. The injured were taken to Adams County Hospital in Decatur.

None of the train crew was hurt.

Sheriff's deputies said the accident occurred in a heavy fog. The car apparently became entangled in the train's wheels and sent the cars piling up, as one witness said, "like cord wood."

The accident, at the rural crossing just east of Wren, blocked a large section of the main line of the Erie-Lackawanna tracks between the East Coast and Chicago. There was no indication how long rail traffic will be tied up.

The derailment was the second in this area for the railroad in less than a month. Twenty-seven cars left the tracks and three men were hurt near Harrod in Allen County Dec. 16.

LEES LASTING STAR

the first and the best carpet made with DuPont 501 nylon

Lasting Star not only wears better, it looks better than run-of-the-mill nylon carpets for two very good reasons.

First, 501 nylon is the first ever engineered especially for carpet use, in one long, strong, continuous filament that never can fuzz up into little dirt traps or broken, matted ends.

Second, Lees gives this modern man-made fiber the same respectful care that's gone into every yard of carpet they ever made. Same number of painstaking inspections at every step of the way.

That's why Lasting Star is not like other nylon carpets. Durable! Won't shed! Won't mat! Resists stains and scuffs! And so easy to care for, you can go wild on color—the lightest, the brightest, even white! Naturally Lasting Star is mothproof, mildew-proof and non-allergenic. Truly a remarkable carpet.

Flip Martins Ferry, 25-10

Beavers Gain Mat Victory

State champion Carl Hoppel's prestige undoubtedly was given a hefty boost as he spotted his opponent 20 pounds and came out with a 6-0 decision.

Beaver Local's Carter also duplicated the feat, as the 165-pounder moved up into a heavier bracket and defeated Bill Thornburn, 175-pounder of the Purple Riders, 7-0.

Stacey and Bookman of Beaver Local also blanked their opponents in posting decisive victories. Goforth gained a 5-3 decision, while Cook and Francis Possage wrestled to draws.

Unbeaten this season for the Beavers are Hoppel, Possage and Yost. Burger made his first start of the season after being shelved with a foot injury received in football.

The results:

Loop Rival Disposed Of By 62-To-47

By SHELDON SAKOWITZ
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Cincinnati Bearcats, who hold the National Collegiate Basketball championship although currently ranked second to Ohio State, might be "playing 'em one at a time," but you can't blame Coach Ed Jucker and his talented lads for looking ahead.

The Bearcats went back to the task of Missouri Valley Conference competition Thursday night after they celebrated Christmas by winning the Holiday Festival at New York's Madison Square Garden. Cincinnati disposed of league rival St. Louis 62-47 for their 10th victory in 11 outings.

Last March Cincinnati stunned Ohio State in the NCAA championship final at Kansas City. But Cincy's hopes were dampened on Dec. 18 when Wichita jolted the Bearcats 52-51 in a league game for their lone loss.

Unbeaten Ohio State, meanwhile, has rebounded from its setback last spring. The Buckeyes have won 10 straight games, including three in the formidable Los Angeles classic.

Maris Says Eye Exam Spurred Homer Record

"The eye doctor told me that with my eyesight I could fly a jet plane, so I knew that was O.K." Maris told the Fraternal Order of Eagles award dinner Thursday night. "And the front office told me to quit worrying, forget about batting averages and just go out there and swing a bat. You might say that was the turning point. I quit pressing and so, here I am, but I sure was lucky, and don't forget it."

Maris and the fabulous Tennessee State and Olympic track star Wilma Rudolph Ward were here Thursday to receive the Frederick C. Miller trophies emblematic of their selection in The Associated Press poll as the athletes of the year for 1961.

Maris, who collected his 61 homers off 46 pitchers, named Camilo Pascual of the Minnesota Twins as the hurler he'd "most like to see out of the league." He hit just one round tripper off Pascual and has a healthy respect for the Minnesota right-hander.

Mrs. Ward, the world's fastest woman, holder of world records of 6.8 seconds in the 60-yard dash indoors and 11.2 in the 100 meters outdoors, says she has hopes of clipping one-tenth of a second off the 60-yard sprint when she opens her competitive season at Los Angeles later this month.

She picked the 60-yard event as the one in which she has the best chance to write a new record.

OSU Eleven Picked

Steel Output Seen Rising 15% In 1962

WASHINGTON (AP) — Steel output in 1962 should reach 107 million tons, about 10 per cent more than in 1961, "if no strikes occur when contracts expire June 30," the Commerce Department reported Thursday.

All three of Steel's best customers — the auto, construction and container industries — are expected to enjoy substantial expansion in the year ahead, the department said.

The 1962 production, however, is expected to run about 10 per cent behind the industry's best year, 1955, when 117 million tons of steel were produced.

Prices are favorable to strong demand, the department said. Competition within the industry produced price cuts for a number of steel products last spring, and the average wholesale price for finished steel still stands at the lowest point since August, 1958.

The outlook for steel exports is not bright, the department's New Year's summary said. Imports in 1961 apparently exceeded exports by about 1.1 million tons, and the year was the third in a row in which this country has imported more steel than it has shipped abroad.

The department also said:

The industry's outlays on new plant and equipment will continue to be large with emphasis on improving steel products to help compete with plastics and aluminum; more efficient processing of raw materials to reduce costs, and modernization of existing plant facilities.

Shipments of finished steel mill products are expected to total 77 million tons this year, compared with an estimated 67 million tons in 1961. Output will be the heaviest in the first half of this year, the department said.

1 Killed, 5 Injured In 2-Car Collision

MEDINA, Ohio (AP)—A Hinckley woman was killed and five persons injured, one critically, in a two-car collision Thursday night at an intersection near Brunswick.

Harold Foster, 37, of Medina, driver of the other car, was listed in poor condition. Hospital authorities said he complained of chest pains and may have suffered a heart attack. Also hospitalized was his brother, Charles, 52, of the same address.

Bringing Up A Family

By GARRY C. MEYERS

Youths Shouldn't Be Forced To Tattle

In the courts dealing with adults it's not unusual to call upon an innocent witness of a crime to testify about it. In this way the offender against society often is found guilty. This procedure may seem especially desirable where treason is involved. But in dealing with misdemeanors and the like among children in school, the problem is very different. While forced testimony of innocent informers may lead to detection of the offenders, some serious consequences may follow. A mother writes from Minnesota:

"LAST YEAR IN the senior high school class a drinking party was held. The school officials tried to get to the bottom of it. They called in a few of the innocent ones to inform on the ones who started it all.

"This brought about much hard feelings between the classmates to the point that they ganged up and gave the ones who informed the silent treatment. It even got so bad that parents who had been friends became enemies.

"This bothered me, even though my children weren't involved, but I felt that some day I, too, might be faced with such a problem. I would like to know what to tell my children if they should be confronted with it.

"The other day my 12-year-old daughter was called to the principal's office with three others and told to inform on who the troublemakers were on the school bus they all ride.

"I like to bring up my children to be honest and to respect authority, but somehow this kind of thing is a little distasteful."

Despicable as was that drinking party in high school, requiring the innocent students to inform on the students responsible for this party can hardly be defended. Nor can the pressure for forced informing in the other incident cited be defended.

Often still, even in the grades, when children refuse to "tell", the whole class may be punished for the offence of the suspected one or two.

As I wrote this mother, I would tell my children that if, at school, they are asked to inform on other children when some are suspected of a misdemeanor, they should say, "I wish you would not ask me to do so. I don't believe it would be right."

Any plan which encourages tattling at home or school is, in my judgment, indefensible.

Men Save Boy Who Swallowed Tongue

CLEVELAND (AP)—Two Cleveland Electric Illuminating Co. employes were working Thursday near the home of 3-year-old Roberto Sanchez, when they heard the boy's mother screaming.

The workers, John Darus, 32, and Ralph Rokowski, 28, rushed into the house and found the youngster was unconscious and had swallowed his tongue.

Darus pulled the tongue back in place with his fingers and then used mouth-to-mouth resuscitation to get the boy breathing again.

Roberto regained consciousness in about three minutes.

Court Income Gains $1,725

A big gain in receipts from criminal cases pushed Municipal Court's income to $4,314 in December, up $1,725 from the $2,589 shown in November, Clerk Wilbur J. Harmon said today in his monthly report.

The court turned over $4,171 to the city treasury out of December revenue, an increase of $1,864 from the $2,307 given the city in November.

The sharp increase in receipts from criminal cases accounted for the gain. Criminal cases produced $3,577 in December, a gain of $2,058 from the $1,519 shown in November.

In addition to criminal receipts, the amount paid the city included $549 in costs from civil cases and $45 in penalties from State Highway Patrol cases.

The court also paid: $45 to the state treasury, also from patrol cases, and $97.50 to the Law Library Association.

The total amount handled by the court was $10,652 in December, off just $47 from the $10,699 shown in November. The amount handled last month included $5,857 in the civil branch and $4,795 in in the criminal branch.

"Ollie Olsen"

"Thoughts of Spring"

Olsen's big coat sale is still going on—if you're looking for a smart warm coat — don't over look this fabulous sale. Fine wool untrimmed coats—all beaufully lined. Choose from solids, tweeds, and novelty fabrics in this season's exciting style—newest collars, newest sleeve lengths in both slim and full silhouettes—it's almost unbelievable but some of these coats are marked down to nearly half price. Note all you gals 5 ft. 1 and under, there's plenty of coats to fit your size without any alterations. If you need a coat for now, and to start next winter, don't pass up this sale of fine coats.

Even though we are all shivering and shaking in this cold feather, it's not to early to think about spring fashions—especially if you are one of those women with a figure problem. Short (five ft. one and under) narrow shoulders, short waist and a little fuller hip line—if you are, Olsen's have the answer for you. They just received a new shipment of Korell dresses. The dress that is famous for it's wonderful fit on the shorter women. Yet with the same styling and dash of regular sizes. They're new spring dresses just arrived and they are perfectly beautiful—in wash and wear Arnel jersey, in stripes, small floral patterns, and dainty checks. These are the packable, washable, no iron jersey and never a wrinkle to be found. So you gals who are hard to fit should make your selection early — put them in lay away 'til you need them. They're priced from $10.95 to $17.95 in sizes 14 plus to 24 plus. What a nice way to use your gift dollars.

Speaking of spring, Olsen's also received a nice group of sweater dresses. Fashioned of 100% dacron, with dainty little short sleeve sweaters to wear over them. These are always an early spring favorite. Soft pastels in either full or slim skirted shirtwaists, wash and wear with little or no ironing. The sweater can be worn over other dresses too. They're priced from $10.79 up — in sizes 10-16. Don't forget you can always lay them away at Olsen's and pick them up at a later date.

That's all today—see you next Friday. Remember Olsen's are still open every nite till nine o'clock for your shopping convenience.

Keep In Trim

By IDA JEAN KAIN

Tone Up . . . Slim Down . . . Feel Young

Exercise is the beauty measure. Move a muscle and your body is being firmed. Stretch and bend sidewards and your waist is being whittled. Exercise is wonderful and measurably rewarding. Reducers, if you tone up as you slim down you can look and feel ten years younger.

Ida Jean Kain

Don't stand in a lump, really lift as you stretch. Pull left toes almost off floor as you lift and you'll feel the middle measurement slimming up! Then swing both arms toward the left, again pulling slim through the middle. Reach! Swing rhythmically, repeating six to 12 times. This stretch swing feels so slimming.

NOW CONTRACT with the middle muscles as you bend sidewards. "Standing" on knees, hold arms out at sides at shoulder level. Sit back on legs. You'll have no trouble with these directions if you go ahead and act out the exercise.

Pull up snugly with abdominal muscles. From this position, bend slowly sidewards, to the right, aiming to touch fingers of right hand to floor at right. Hold. No crumpling in the middle! Come back to center, bend slowly to the left, aiming to touch fingers of left hand to floor. Make this a slow, smooth action. To really put gimp back in girdle muscles, pull up, raising buttocks slightly off legs, as you stretch and bend. Force the abdominal muscles to take the lifting action.

Just a small amount of exercise can work a miracle on a middle-aged figure. When you feel bored, instead of turning to food, turn to exercise. Come alive with exercise!

Holt Gives Views On Ohio's School Building Issue

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio should solve its own school construction problems, says E. E. Holt, state superintendent of public instruction. He contends the state would lose more than it would get if the federal government entered the picture.

The relative unpopularity of further property taxes was shown, he points out, by the decline in voter approval of school bond issues. For this reason, he says, a state bond issue would not be the answer.

Holt expressed concern that failure of Ohio—a wealthy state compared to many—to provide for its own needs might motivate Congress to get into the school construction business.

The U.S. Office of Education has reported an imminent letdown in construction of classroom space in Ohio while enrollment is expected to rise 75,000 - 80,000 in Buckeye schools next fall.

Holt sums up: "We are now at the point where we've got to decide what we want and how to pay for it. I think we have the ability to do it ourselves."

Conneaut Police Set To Take Village Calls

CONNEAUT, Ohio (AP) — The Conneaut Police Department will handle all police calls from Conneaut and Lakeville Village starting Monday.

Lakeville police could not be reached directly in the past, and their calls were channeled through a taxicab company.

Dietzel Will Face Board At LSU Today

By BOB DUFFY
Sports Editor

Mason, Dietzel Good Pals . . .

Tony Mason, who led Niles High to an Ohio football championship this past season, is a close friend of Paul Dietzel and it is Tony's opinion that "unless LSU comes up with a fabulous offer Paul will take the Army job".

Mason has known Dietzel for the past eight years and the two have become close friends. Tony spends a few weeks each year around the LSU campus.

"Paul didn't mention much about the Army post last week because he was worried about Colorado. Last Sunday eight members of the LSU Board of Directors flew to Miami and talked to Dietzel in an effort to keep him at LSU," Mason said.

Receives $40,000 At LSU . . .

At LSU, Mason informed us that Dietzel received $18,500 coaching salary, but with TV and radio shows, a car, and other extras, his earnings came to about $40,000 a year.

Army would pay Dietzel $20,000 a year and reportedly would give him a 5-year contract. At Army, the head coach is also given a house free.

"If Dietzel does accept the offer from Army, he will attempt to take all four assistants with him, but probably will end up taking only three.

As far as a successor for Dietzel, in case he leaves LSU, Mason heard that Frank Broyles, head coach of Arkansas which lost to Alabama, 10-3 in the Sugar Bowl, is first in line.

MASON himself indicated he might be lured into the college ranks if the right offer comes along. He can't go much farther in high school football.

At present he is flirting with several offers as an assistant at a major college.

Hoppel's Record Amazing . . .

JACK O'ROURKE, who has had a successful reign at Beaver Local with his football and wrestling teams, sat down the other day and added up the over-all record of his star wrestler, Carl Hoppel.

When he arrived at a total, Jack commented, "Boy if I only had a record like this in football." It would be an amazing one to be sure. Hoppel, who is now in his fourth year of competition, shows an incredible mark of 77 victories against only two defeats.

This record must go down as one of the most outstanding for a high school wrestler anywhere.

Carl may lose sometime this season, because Beaver Local has scheduled some strong teams, especially in Pennsylvania, but he got past one big test last Tuesday night at Waynesburg by blanking his opponent, 3-0. It seems Hoppel gets better as the competition gets stiffer.

Coming from a great wrestling family, Hoppel was a hit his first year as a high school wrestler. Losing only one match that season, he became the first freshman ever to win a state wrestling title.

He was only 15 then and brought home the 120-pound title. During his first season, he had a 23-1 record. The only match Hoppel lost came in the district finals, a 6-3 decision to Frank Cunningham on Bridgeport. Both wrestlers qualified for the state and a week after his only defeat, Hoppel met Cunningham for the state 120-pound title and not only won, but pinned him in 5:37.

Out of the finals his sophomore season, Carl came roaring back to win 23 straight matches the following year and cop another state crown, this time at 133.

At present he is working on a string of 33 straight victories and is looking for a third state championship.

If he gains his third title, he will not only be a champion in Ohio but within his own family. His brother Darryl already has won two state titles, so Carl will have to go one better to rate the top trophy shelf in the Hoppel homestead.

Allen Joins Marines . . .

BERNIE ALLEN'S professional baseball career will be interrupted this season. Allen, who was to be drafted into the Army next Tuesday enlisted in the Marine Corps Reserve 6-month reserve program Thursday.

He will report to Parris Island on Feb. 25 for six months of active duty and will be discharged sometime late in August.

This will knock him out of a year of baseball. He has already contacted the Minnesota Twins. Allen was scheduled to go to spring training with the Twins this year.

This 'N That In Sports . . .

KENNY Miller, the ex-Potter, fired in 16 points for the Toledo freshmen Wednesday night at Akron, but it came in a losing cause to the Akron jayvees.

EAST Liverpool's Bob Dawson, captain of the 10th-ranked Bowling Green Falcons, scored 10 points in his team's near loss to Western Michigan Wednesday.

The Bowling Green five, with Dawson aiding with his clever ball handling and assists, surprised everyone by winning the All-College tournament at Oklahoma City last week.

Victories were over Seattle, Wichita and Houston. Wichita by the way is the same team which knocked off the defending NCAA champs, Cincinnati. This performance shoved the Falcons up into the nation's top 10.

MARILYN Seigler of Salineville, who has done a fine job of covering sports in that area for The Review, was among the thousands at the Rose Bowl game Monday in Pasadena.

DON "Shot" Bennett, the former East Liverpool and Westminster cage standout, is running the Sharon High basketball squad these days since the head coach is not quite over a leg operation. "Shot" serves as reserve coach at Sharon, which has produced outstanding basketball teams.

Permission Sought For Army Post

By ED TUNSTALL

BATON ROUGE, La. (AP) — Football Coach Paul Dietzel goes before the Louisiana State University board of supervisors today to ask permission to take the coaching job at West Point.

The military academy and LSU are involved in a catch-as-catch can over the services of the 38-year-old Dietzel.

As the board gathered to consider the Dietzel matter, the word in the Bayou country was that Dietzel was all but delivered to the banks of the Hudson.

Asking permission to take the Army job is an oversimplification. Dietzel still has four years remaining on a contract that calls for $18,500 per year and he needs a release before he can journey northward.

Board member Tom Dutton said earlier this week he would ask the board to take legal action to prevent Dietzel from leaving.

But Dietzel may have given an indication of his decision on a 15-minute television sports show in Baton Rouge Thursday night.

Though he parried all direct questions, he commented that "It's been a wonderful seven years" since he took over as head coach. And, he added, "My stay at LSU has been wonderful."

East Jr. Five Chalks Up 4th

East Junior High spurted in the second quarter to seize a commanding lead and went on to turn back East Palestine's frosh, 49-28, Thursday on the winners' court.

Behind 8-5 at the first quarter mark, East fired in 19 points in the second period to snare the lead which it maintained the rest of the way.

Coach Dom Cascio pulled his starters with three minutes left in the opening quarter. When they returned to action in the second, the East five hit consistently to pull away for the win.

Bob Lane, who sparked East's second period rally, led all scorers with 11 points, while Frank Taylor and Bob Maltarich each hopped eight. Walker's 10 led the losers.

With a 4-1 record now, East will return to action Thursday at 4:15 p.m. at the new Community Arena in Steubenville, opposing the Central Catholic freshmen.

Senior Boal Coaches Pick Starting Lineups

MOBILE, Ala. (AP) — Senior Bowl coaches named starting lineups and the players elected captains Thursday for Saturday's clash of North and South in Mobile.

Potters Visit Youngstown For South Tilt Saturday

East Liverpool's improved Potters, flashing a good performance against rival Wellsville, will visit Youngstown Saturday for a battle with the South High Warriors at South Fieldhouse.

The Potter and South reserves will open action at 7:30, with the varsity contest scheduled to get underway about 8:45.

East Liverpool will be facing a South team which has a 3-1 record. The only blemish was a 56-47 loss to Sharon, one of the strongest teams in Western Pennsylvania.

Before bowing to Sharon, South had won three straight. The Warriors meet Youngstown Rayen tonight in a city series contest.

The main reason for South's respectable record is the fact that four regulars are back from last season, including the two top scorers.

John Tensley, 6-foot, and Ernie McElroy were the one-two punch for the Warriors last season. They are joined by two other veterans, Jimmy Jones, 5-foot-10, and Roy White, 6-foot.

Either Bob McFadden, 6-foot-2, or Ron Johnson, 6-foot, will be the other starter.

Key performances were turned in by Dave Harriel, who sank 21 points, and Jack Deshler, whose booming jump shot accounted for 18.

Football Rulesmakers Will Emphasize Safety

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (AP)—Football rulesmakers, concerned over a one-year jump in high school football fatalities, will act today on several recommended rule changes, with the emphasis on safety.

Proposed changes will go before 48 voting delegates at the National Alliance Football Committee convention. Because of the increase in deaths one radical change has an outside chance of adoption.

This is the rule that now allows blocking with one arm held horizontally away from the shoulder. While the hand must be on the chest—the elbow is up and has become a dangerous weapon in the view of some officials. This rule was adopted to aid the fast-striking T-formation. It may be changed to require the arms be kept against the sides.

The alliance represents 14,000 football-playing high schools and 400 small colleges and junior colleges in 49 states. It includes the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics, the National Junior College Athletic Association and the National Federation of High Schools.

Clifford B. Fagan, executive secretary of the alliance, said there was strong feeling among some rulemakers for a rule to eliminate the return of kicks, but it was doubtful this change would be adopted.

He said a recommendation for soft padding on rib, shoulder and hip pads—starting with some future season—likely will be adopted. Another likely change is a proposal to modify requirements for tooth and mouth protectors, allowing the use of additional types.

OSU Students Against Taking Rose Bowl Money

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio State University's student governing body has urged the university's Faculty Council not to accept a share of the proceeds from Monday's Rose Bowl football game.

The council accepted the one-twelfth share last year and has indicated it will do the same this year. However, it refused to permit Ohio State's Big Ten champion Buckeyes to play in the New Year's Day classic.

The motion passed in the Student Senate Thursday night said the acceptance of the money is "inconsistent and unethical in view of the general policy of nonparticipation reaffirmed by the Faculty Council decision of Nov. 28."

The decision was the rejection of the Rose Bowl bid.

The share would amount to about $25,000.

Instead of Buying and Selling . . . . Let Us Arrange an EXCHANGE!

"Should I SELL first or BUY first?"
If you sell first, and then do not find what you want, you may be temporarily homeless!
If you buy first, and then find it takes time to sell the old home, you may get into a "bind."
We may be able to help you on both aspects. Perhaps we can arrange an EXCHANGE, so that the entire transaction and timing can be simplified, possibly with tax benefits thrown in for good measure!

Flip Martins Ferry, 25-10

Beavers Gain Mat Victory

State champion Carl Hoppel's prestige undoubtedly was given a hefty boost as he spotted his opponent 20 pounds and came out with a 6-0 decision.

Beaver Local's Carter also duplicated the feat, as the 165-pounder moved up into a heavier bracket and defeated Bill Thornburn, 175-pounder of the Purple Riders, 7-0.

Stacey and Bookman of Beaver Local also blanked their opponents in posting decisive victories. Goforth gained a 5-3 decision, while Cook and Francis Possage wrestled to draws.

Unbeaten this season for the Beavers are Hoppel, Possage and Yost. Burger made his first start of the season after being shelved with a foot injury received in football.

The results:

112 — Goforth (BL) decisioned Snider (MF), 5-3.

138 — Yost (BL) decisioned L. Deaton (MF) 5-0.

Loop Rival Disposed Of By 62-To-47

By SHELDON SAKOWITZ
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Cincinnati Bearcats, who hold the National Collegiate Basketball championship although currently ranked second to Ohio State, might be "playing 'em one at a time," but you can't blame Coach Ed Jucker and his talented lads for looking ahead.

The Bearcats went back to the task of Missouri Valley Conference competition Thursday night after they celebrated Christmas by winning the Holiday Festival at New York's Madison Square Garden. Cincinnati disposed of league rival St. Louis 62-47 for their 10th victory in 11 outings.

Last March Cincinnati stunned Ohio State in the NCAA championship final at Kansas City. But Cincy's hopes were dampened on Dec. 18 when Wichita jolted the Bearcats 52-51 in a league game for their lone loss.

Unbeaten Ohio State, meanwhile, has rebounded from its setback last spring. The Buckeyes have won 10 straight games, including three in the formidable Los Angeles classic.

No other members of the top ten saw action Thursday night.

Chester Frosh Top South Side For 1st Victory

Maris Says Eye Exam Spurred Homer Record

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP)— The New York Yankees' mighty slugger Roger Maris credits an eye examination and a front office conference with providing the impetus for his record-breaking feat of 1961 when he whacked 61 homers.

"The eye doctor told me that with my eyesight I could fly a jet plane, so I knew that was O.K." Maris told the Fraternal Order of Eagles award dinner Thursday night. "And the front office told me to quit worrying, forget about batting averages and just go out there and swing a bat. You might say that was the turning point. I quit pressing and so, here I am, but I sure was lucky, and don't forget it."

Maris and the fabulous Tennessee State and Olympic track star Wilma Rudolph Ward were here Thursday to receive the Frederick C. Miller trophies emblematic of their selection in The Associated Press poll as the athletes of the year for 1961.

Maris, who collected his 61 homers off 46 pitchers, named Camilo Pascual of the Minnesota Twins as the hurler he'd "most like to see out of the league." He hit just one round tripper off Pascual and has a healthy respect for the Minnesota right-hander.

Mrs. Ward, the world's fastest woman, holder of world records of 6.8 seconds in the 60-yard dash indoors and 11.2 in the 100 meters outdoors, says she has hopes of clipping one-tenth of a second off the 60-yard sprint when she opens her competitive season at Los Angeles later this month.

She picked the 60-yard event as the one in which she has the best chance to write a new record.

SNOW TOMORROW?

SEE THE SCOUT® TODAY

Winter wonderlands won't worry or weary the new INTERNATIONAL SCOUT. Its 4-cylinder, 93-horsepower Comanche engine packs power aplenty to plow snow or push stalled cars. Front-mounted winch and 78-inch snow plow with hydraulic lift are winter-ready options built especially for the all-wheel-drive SCOUT.

Snug in the weathertight, all steel cab, warmed by a high-capacity fresh-air heater/defroster, you can laugh at winter's worst and keep on going. The SCOUT'S 100-inch wheelbase is ideal for tight turns —a full circle in less than two lanes. And its 13-foot over-all length and 68-inch width take less room in the cramped space plowing and winter servicing may allow.

WINTER QUIZ
What one vehicle can be fixed to solve all these winter problems: road service, tire service, pushing or pulling stuck cars, starting, towing a big bob-sled and still serve as a handsome little courtesy car?

WINTER WHIZ
You're right! The SCOUT with all-wheel-drive for greater traction . . . non-directional tread tires . . . or over-sized tires for mud . . . 78" snow plow for drives, walks . . . front-mounted winch for pulling . . . heater/defroster for comfort . . . turn signals for safety . . . radio for news, weather and company. The SCOUT for winter work or play.

Keep In Trim

By IDA JEAN KAIN

Tone Up . . . Slim Down . . . Feel Young

Exercise is the beauty measure. Move a muscle and your body is being firmed. Stretch and bend sidewards and your waist is being whittled. Exercise is wonderful and measurably rewarding. Reducers, if you tone up as you slim down you can look and feel ten years younger.

Ida Jean Kain

Stretching is a natural, besides it's fun and limbering. Stand with feet comfortably apart. Swing both arms up and toward the right as you stretch.

Don't stand in a lump, really lift as you stretch. Pull left toes almost off floor as you lift and you'll feel the middle measurement slimming up! Then swing both arms toward the left, again pulling slim through the middle. Reach! Swing rhythmically, repeating six to 12 times. This stretch swing feels so slimming.

NOW CONTRACT with the middle muscles as you bend sidewards. "Standing" on knees, hold arms out at sides at shoulder level. Sit back on legs. You'll have no trouble with these directions if you go ahead and act out the exercise.

Pull up snugly with abdominal muscles. From this position, bend slowly sidewards, to the right, aiming to touch fingers of right hand to floor at right. Hold. No crumpling in the middle! Come back to center, bend slowly to the left, aiming to touch fingers of left hand to floor. Make this a slow, smooth action. To really put gimp back in girdle muscles, pull up, raising buttocks slightly off legs, as you stretch and bend. Force the abdominal muscles to take the lifting action.

Just a small amount of exercise can work a miracle on a middle-aged figure. When you feel bored, instead of turning to food, turn to exercise. Come alive with exercise!

Holt Gives Views On Ohio's School Building Issue

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio should solve its own school construction problems, says E. E. Holt, state superintendent of public instruction. He contends the state would lose more than it would get if the federal government entered the picture.

The relative unpopularity of further property taxes was shown, he points out, by the decline in voter approval of school bond issues. For this reason, he says, a state bond issue would not be the answer.

Holt expressed concern that failure of Ohio—a wealthy state compared to many—to provide for its own needs might motivate Congress to get into the school construction business.

The U.S. Office of Education has reported an imminent letdown in construction of classroom space in Ohio while enrollment is expected to rise 75,000 - 80,000 in Buckeye schools next fall.

Holt sums up: "We are now at the point where we've got to decide what we want and how to pay for it. I think we have the ability to do it ourselves."

Conneaut Police Set To Take Village Calls

CONNEAUT, Ohio (AP) — The Conneaut Police Department will handle all police calls from Conneaut and Lakeville Village starting Monday.

Junior Editors Quiz on KITES

QUESTION: When was the first kite made and what was it used for?

★ ★ ★

ANSWER: Kite flying is such an ancient pastime that we have to rely on legends to tell us when it was first invented. It is said that Archytas of the Greek city of Tarentium first flew a kite somewhere between 300 and 400 B.C. But the Chinese say that general Han Sin invented the kite in 206 B. C. for use in war. The Koreans have a legend that a general attached a lantern to a kite and claimed it to be a new star in the sky as a sign of triumph. In Eastern Asia people are so fond of flying kites that shop keepers sometimes fly them while waiting for customers. Our illustration shows "Kite's Day," in old China, which was Sept. 9. It was an ancient custom for young and old to fly their kites on this day, many of the kites being beautifully made and painted, representing animals, people, even pots of flowers. In 1749 kites were first used in Scotland for scientific purposes, carrying thermometers aloft to record the temperature of the clouds. In 1752 Benjamin Franklin, using a kite with a large brass key hanging on the string flew it in a thunder storm and proved, by the electricity running down into the key, that lightning is electricty. Kites have been used for weather forecasting, for photography, to carry strings across river gorges so that bridges might be built, and as signals on life rafts.

★ ★ ★

FOR YOU TO DO: Fly your kite for fun but memorize the Kite Flyer's Code: 1. Don't use any metal in making kites as it might attract lightning. 2. Never fly your kite near telephone, electric, or any other wires. 3. Never fly your kite in a thunder storm.

★ ★ ★

Instead of Buying and Selling . . . . Let Us Arrange an EXCHANGE!

One of the problems you face when selling one home and buying another is:
"Should I SELL first or BUY first?"
If you sell first, and then do not find what you want, you may be temporarily homeless!
If you buy first, and then find it takes time to sell the old home, you may get into a "bind."
We may be able to help you on both aspects. Perhaps we can arrange an EXCHANGE, so that the entire transaction and timing can be simplified, possibly with tax benefits thrown in for good measure!
Come in and discuss it with

Ken Murray Clips Coupon On 1927 Venture

Ken Murray after Sunday night will be the envy of every home movie maker who ever cocked a camera. The veteran comic and man - about - Hollywood not only conned a national network into televising his home movies but managed to shake it loose from a bundle of dough for the privilege.

Hal Humphrey

Murray, by the way, is just as much of a pest about his films as any other taker of home movies. The reason one never sees lights in Murray's Beverly Hills hovel is that he usually has a bevy of guests trapped before a 4x5 screen in his living room.

If you get hungry, Murray crawls into the kitchen with a miner's cap and light on his head and char-broils a steak for you.

NOT ONLY does Murray feed better than the average home movie host, he has a better grade of stuff on his films.

You see the usual family didoes, such as Ken trying to cross busy Hollywood Blvd. and his boy, Cort, trying to escape the clutches of a predatory female. But you also see the late Jean Harlow bouncing down the fairway of a golf course in a manner which makes today's twist as prim as a Maypole dance.

The Murray home movies include off-guarded moments with such Hollywood luminaries as Doug Fairbanks Sr. and Charlie Chaplin. There is a shot of Harriet Nelson (Ozzie's mate) when she was 15.

About 75 Hollywood personalities are in the cast of "Hollywood, My Home Town," which is the title of the home movie collection Murray will show on NBC-TV's Show of the week sunday at (10 p.m.).

"I spent all of my spare time visiting the studios and asking the stars to do some little bit of business for my 16-mm. camera," Murray recalls.

"Most of the film I sent to my folks in Kingston, N.Y., so they could see that their boy was really in Hollywood."

The Murrays' boy was in Hollywood all right, and his cocky charm got him into places where only Cecil B. DeMille was allowed to roam unchallenged. Murray even got stars like W. C. Fields and Fairbanks Sr. to clown for him, just as you or I might get Uncle Harry and Aunt Maude to do for us and our home movie camera.

"You can't imagine all the things that happened to me," Murray says. "I got into Pickfair—that's where Doug and Mary Pickford lived — and didn't realize until I was out of the front gate that I had forgotten to take the cap off the camera."

IT'S DOUBTFUL that Murray himself realized the value of his Hollywood family album until about 18 months ago when, as a kind of gag, he ran off about three minutes of it while guesting on Jack Paar's show.

The reaction was instantaneous. Murray then set about editing and cutting his collection into an hour show for TV.

Ken also went to considerable expense and trouble contacting all those still alive in his film to get their permission to turn it into a commercial venture. For their cooperation, he has turned over a check for $10,000 from the profits to the Motion Picture Relief Fund.

NBC and the sponsor were happy to pay Murray for this ready-made show. It makes much better entertainment than the "Show of the Week" series has averaged so far this season.

And where else can those of us over 40 sit back and watch Dick Powell, Ralph Bellamy and Rudy Vallee when they were young striplings and then decide they seem to have aged must faster than the rest of us?

Where else, too, can Murray show off a film of himself sailing across the rough Catalina Channel with Errol Flynn so he can describe himself as "the first of the sick comedians"?

District Scout Group Plans For Reregistering Of Units

Reports on reregistering of present units and the possibility of organizing others were heard at a meeting of the Cherokee Boy Scout district staff Wednesday night at the new cabin of Troop 59 on Route 45 at Hillcrest.

Frank Rossi, district vice chairman, was a guest. He reported on 10 prospective sponsors for new units. Various members of the staff were assigned to work on the projects.

The district ended the year with 53 units serving 1,332 scouts. A dinner will be held in May for the sponsors of all new units.

Robert Gray, executive, said 1961 was the best year in scouting in the district. He said 25 boys attained Eagle rank during the year and approximately 1,500 merit badges were earned.

Eugene Seeley, district commissioner, presided. Ed Adkins, commissioner, reported the three units at St. Aloysius Church will reregister this month. Also due to reregister this month are Pack 11 of the Emmanuel Presbyterian Church, Pack and Troop 60 of St. Ann's Catholic Church, Troop 28 of the Wellsville VFW, Pack 25 of the Chester Home and School Association and Pack 30 of the Chester First Methodist Church.

Each unit is assigned a commissioner to aid in reregistration and other matters. Seeley said more are needed.

Ed Moulton of Virginia Ave., Chester, was thanked for his work as a commissioner. He is moving to Los Alamos, N. M.

City Auto Dealer Gets Post For Convention

Mike Turk, city auto dealer, has been appointed Ohio attendance chairman for the National Automobile Dealers Association convention Feb. 3-7 in Atlantic City.

Turk, a trustee of the Ohio organization, was appointed by John L. Rodenfels of Cleveland, state president, who pointed out Turk held the same post last year when Ohio had the largest delegation of dealers to the San Francisco convention outside of California.

Mayor William Cromer presided and swore in Councilmen Elmer W. Laughlin and Thomas N. Lombard, newly-elected in November, and Paul Glenn Mackall Jr., who was re-elected.

A vice president was not named. The borough's other officers, who were not up for election, include Mrs. Myrtle Alger, secretary, and John E. Mackall, treasurer.

Army Promotion Order Turns Out To Be An Error

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Army set some sort of promotion record today, upping nine officers from lieutenant to colonel. But it turned out to be a typographical error, including the date of promotion—Dec. 32.

Army officials said that instead of "lt." it should have read "lt. col." for lieutenant colonel.

SNOW TOMORROW?

SEE THE SCOUT® TODAY

Winter wonderlands won't worry or weary the new INTERNATIONAL SCOUT. Its 4-cylinder, 93-horsepower Comanche engine packs power aplenty to plow snow or push stalled cars. Front-mounted winch and 78-inch snow plow with hydraulic lift are winter-ready options built especially for the all-wheel-drive SCOUT.

Snug in the weathertight, all steel cab, warmed by a high-capacity fresh-air heater/defroster, you can laugh at winter's worst and keep on going. The SCOUT's 100-inch wheelbase is ideal for tight turns —a full circle in less than two lanes. And its 13-foot over-all length and 68-inch width take less room in the cramped space plowing and winter servicing may allow.

WINTER QUIZ
What one vehicle can be fixed to solve all these winter problems: road service, tire service, pushing or pulling stuck cars, starting, towing a big bob-sled and still serve as a handsome little courtesy car?

WINTER WHIZ
You're right! The SCOUT with all-wheel-drive for greater traction . . . non-directional tread tires . . . or over-sized tires for mud . . . 78" snow plow for drives, walks . . . front-mounted winch for pulling . . . heater/defroster for comfort . . . turn signals for safety . . . radio for news, weather and company. The SCOUT for winter work or play.

Junior Editors Quiz on KITES

QUESTION: When was the first kite made and what was it used for?

★ ★ ★

ANSWER: Kite flying is such an ancient pastime that we have to rely on legends to tell us when it was first invented. It is said that Archytas of the Greek city of Tarentium first flew a kite somewhere between 300 and 400 B.C. But the Chinese say that general Han Sin invented the kite in 206 B. C. for use in war. The Koreans have a legend that a general attached a lantern to a kite and claimed it to be a new star in the sky as a sign of triumph. In Eastern Asia people are so fond of flying kites that shop keepers sometimes fly them while waiting for customers. Our illustration shows "Kite's Day," in old China, which was Sept. 9. It was an ancient custom for young and old to fly their kites on this day, many of the kites being beautifully made and painted, representing animals, people, even pots of flowers. In 1749 kites were first used in Scotland for scientific purposes, carrying thermometers aloft to record the temperature of the clouds. In 1752 Benjamin Franklin, using a kite with a large brass key hanging on the string flew it in a thunder storm and proved, by the electricity running down into the key, that lightning is electricty. Kites have been used for weather forecasting, for photography, to carry strings across river gorges so that bridges might be built, and as signals on life rafts.

★ ★ ★

FOR YOU TO DO: Fly your kite for fun but memorize the Kite Flyer's Code: 1. Don't use any metal in making kites as it might attract lightning. 2. Never fly your kite near telephone, electric, or any other wires. 3. Never fly your kite in a thunder storm.

HAL HUMPHREY

Ken Murray Clips Coupon On 1927 Venture

Ken Murray after Sunday night will be the envy of every home movie maker who ever cocked a camera. The veteran comic and man - about - Hollywood not only conned a national network into televising his home movies but managed to shake it loose from a bundle of dough for the privilege.

Hal Humphrey

Murray, by the way, is just as much of a pest about his films as any other taker of home movies. The reason one never sees lights in Murray's Beverly Hills hovel is that he usually has a bevy of guests trapped before a 4x5 screen in his living room.

If you get hungry, Murray crawls into the kitchen with a miner's cap and light on his head and char-broils a steak for you.

NOT ONLY does Murray feed better than the average home movie host, he has a better grade of stuff on his films.

You see the usual family didoes, such as Ken trying to cross busy Hollywood Blvd. and his boy, Cort, trying to escape the clutches of a predatory female. But you also see the late Jean Harlow bouncing down the fairway of a golf course in a manner which makes today's twist as prim as a Maypole dance.

The Murray home movies include off-guarded moments with such Hollywood luminaries as Doug Fairbanks Sr. and Charlie Chaplin. There is a shot of Harriet Nelson (Ozzie's mate) when she was 15.

About 75 Hollywood personalities are in the cast of "Hollywood, My Home Town," which is the title of the home movie collection Murray will show on NBC-TV's Show of the week sunday at (10 p.m.).

IN 1927, according to Murray's memory, he was in Hollywood as part of a vaudeville bill.

"I spent all of my spare time visiting the studios and asking the stars to do some little bit of business for my 16-mm. camera," Murray recalls.

"Most of the film I sent to my folks in Kingston, N.Y., so they could see that their boy was really in Hollywood."

The Murrays' boy was in Hollywood all right, and his cocky charm got him into places where only Cecil B. DeMille was allowed to roam unchallenged. Murray even got stars like W. C. Fields and Fairbanks Sr. to clown for him, just as you or I might get Uncle Harry and Aunt Maude to do for us and our home movie camera.

"You can't imagine all the things that happened to me," Murray says. "I got into Pickfair—that's where Doug and Mary Pickford lived — and didn't realize until I was out of the front gate that I had forgotten to take the cap off the camera."

IT'S DOUBTFUL that Murray himself realized the value of his Hollywood family album until about 18 months ago when, as a kind of gag, he ran off about three minutes of it while guesting on Jack Paar's show.

The reaction was instantaneous. Murray then set about editing and cutting his collection into an hour show for TV.

Ken also went to considerable expense and trouble contacting all those still alive in his film to get their permission to turn it into a commercial venture. For their cooperation, he has turned over a check for $10,000 from the profits to the Motion Picture Relief Fund.

NBC and the sponsor were happy to pay Murray for this ready-made show. It makes much better entertainment than the "Show of the Week" series has averaged so far this season.

And where else can those of us over 40 sit back and watch Dick Powell, Ralph Bellamy and Rudy Vallee when they were young striplings and then decide they seem to have aged must faster than the rest of us?

Where else, too, can Murray show off a film of himself sailing across the rough Catalina Channel with Errol Flynn so he can describe himself as "the first of the sick comedians"?

District Scout Group Plans For Reregistering Of Units

Reports on reregistering of present units and the possibility of organizing others were heard at a meeting of the Cherokee Boy Scout district staff Wednesday night at the new cabin of Troop 59 on Route 45 at Hillcrest.

Frank Rossi, district vice chairman, was a guest. He reported on 10 prospective sponsors for new units. Various members of the staff were assigned to work on the projects.

The district ended the year with 53 units serving 1,332 scouts. A dinner will be held in May for the sponsors of all new units.

Robert Gray, executive, said 1961 was the best year in scouting in the district. He said 25 boys attained Eagle rank during the year and approximately 1,500 merit badges were earned.

Eugene Seeley, district commissioner, presided. Ed Adkins, commissioner, reported the three units at St. Aloysius Church will reregister this month. Also due to reregister this month are Pack 11 of the Emmanuel Presbyterian Church, Pack and Troop 60 of St. Ann's Catholic Church, Troop 28 of the Wellsville VFW, Pack 25 of the Chester Home and School Association and Pack 30 of the Chester First Methodist Church.

Each unit is assigned a commissioner to aid in reregistration and other matters. Seeley said more are needed.

Ed Moulton of Virginia Ave., Chester, was thanked for his work as a commissioner. He is moving to Los Alamos, N. M.

City Auto Dealer Gets Post For Convention

Mike Turk, city auto dealer, has been appointed Ohio attendance chairman for the National Automobile Dealers Association convention Feb. 3-7 in Atlantic City.

Turk, a trustee of the Ohio organization, was appointed by John L. Rodenfels of Cleveland, state president, who pointed out Turk held the same post last year when Ohio had the largest delegation of dealers to the San Francisco convention outside of California.

Georgetown Council Elects

Georgetown Borough Council reorganized Wednesday evening, reelecting Tony Decapio, president, swearing in three councilmen and appointing a new councilman.

The resignation of Councilman William Rowley, due to illness, was accepted. Curtis Finley, who was not present at the meeting, was appointed to replace him.

Mayor William Cromer presided and swore in Councilmen Elmer W. Laughlin and Thomas N. Lombard, newly-elected in November, and Paul Glenn Mackall Jr., who was re-elected.

A vice president was not named. The borough's other officers, who were not up for election, include Mrs. Myrtle Alger, secretary, and John E. Mackall, treasurer.

Army Promotion Order Turns Out To Be An Error

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Army set some sort of promotion record today, upping nine officers from lieutenant to colonel. But it turned out to be a typographical error, including the date of promotion—Dec. 32.

Included in the long promotion roster distributed by the Army were nine names under the heading: "lt. to col., dor 32 Dec. 1961."

Translated from Army language this means promotion from lieutenant to colonel—a jump of four grades—with Dec. 32 as the effective date of rank.

Army officials said that instead of "lt." it should have read "lt. col." for lieutenant colonel.
